Area Digs Out Of Its Heaviest Snow

A Thing Of Beauty...

Cause For Concern

The district was digging out of its heaviest snowfall of the winter today, with the prospect of additional flurries tonight and Wednesday.

Much colder weather is due to add to the problem.

The snowfall ranged from 8 to 12 inches across the district and temperatures, which dipped to 28 degrees, helped create an icy base which caused slick roads in most areas.

Eight inches of snow were reported by U.S. Weather Observer Edwin Copeland at Millport and at Rogers, while 12 inches were reported at the Montgomery Dam at Industry.

Virtually all schools in the district were closed, with those of the Salem area the lone exception.

Highway conditions are extremely bad, according to the Roads Bad, Schools Shut

Highway Patrol at Lisbon. Officers said driving is "very hazardous."

Drifting snow has closed several secondary roads and Route 45 between Lisbon and Salem was one lane or less this morning.

Route 517 was reported in the same condition and snow also had turned Route 30 west from Lisbon to Minerva into one lane.

Officers said the Route 7 "Rogers Hill" was tied up virtually all night with tractor-trailer trucks unable to move. Many slid off the road or slid sideways, blocking traffic.

Traffic also was tied up on Route 45 at Shelton's Grove, north of Route 344, for about three hours last night. It was opened at 1 a. m.

Cinder crews were called out early yesterday afternoon and have battled the snow throughout the night.

LISBON POLICE called the street crew at 12:05 a. m. when a snow-laden branch fell across N. Jefferson St. and brushed Clayton Hunter's car parked in front of his house. There was no apparent damage to the car, police said.

An electric wire broke at 4:15 a. m. at the junction of N. Beaver and Sherman Sts. in Lisbon and left that section without power until a line crew arrived.

were called out at 6 p. m. and worked all night. He anticipated trouble with drifting today as the wind began to rise after daylight. The snow stopped here at 9:30 and the sky was blue by 10.

BESIDES heavily clogged back roads in the Beaver Local District, the schools were plagued by power failures which left heating systems cold and communications faltering.

Classes were canceled for the 2,651 students because of the power at the high school, Public School and Elkton school.

Some power was in parts of the high school and Public school, but the buildings were cold. Supt. Roy Cashdollar said. Back roads were blocked in places, he added.

Ohio Starts Digging Out Of Big Snow

9 Inches And Over Reported; Traffic In Cities Snarled

By The Associated Press

Ohio was shoveling out of one of the deepest snows of the winter today with accumulations of up to nine inches in some communities. Early morning traffic was snarled in most cities as the snowfall diminished to flurries.

Cincinnati and Zanesville recorded 8 inches on the ground; Akron 5, Cleveland 1, Columbus 7, Toledo 3, Dayton 4, Youngstown 5, Hillsboro 9 and Piquette 8.

The Weather Bureau reported that the snowfall was diminishing to flurries in the central counties and ended in the western third of the state early in the morning. Accumulations ranged from very light in the northwest to the heavier snowfall of the central and southern areas.

Strong winds in some areas caused considerable drifting as the overnight low temperatures were mostly in the 20s, ranging from 20 in Toledo to 30 at Chesapeake on the Ohio River.

The Weather Bureau said the snowstorm would move eastward from Ohio by afternoon, to be followed by much colder weather Tuesday night and Wednesday.

But the bureau reported that another cold front will bring in strong winds and more snow flurries this afternoon as it sweeps eastward across the state.

Some rural schools were expected to be closed Tuesday with drifting snow making school bus operation almost impossible.

High water in some areas also interfered with school bus operation.

Among the schools forced to close were county schools in Licking, Knox, Muskingum, Coshocton, Fairfield, Pickaway, Ross, Fayette, Pike, Jackson, Vinton and Scioto counties.

Some schools also were closed in Delaware, Union, Madison and Champaign counties.

Other schools were reported closed in Meigs and Gallia counties, not by snow, but water flooding over roads. Some families at Rutland in Meigs County were evacuated, and high water was reported at Radcliff in Vinton County where one motorist reported conditions going from six inches of snow into 16 inches of water on Ohio 160.

Power Interruption Occurs In Hancock

A brief power interruption in sections of Lawrenceville and rural Hancock County resulted Monday night when a falling tree forced down a line on Route 30, outside of Chester.

Lawrenceville firemen were summoned about 11 p. m. when a flash had been observed at the site, but they reported finding no fire and that fire equipment was not needed.

Southern Part Of State Already Hit

Ohio River Communities Receive Flood Warnings

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Ohio River continued to rise rapidly today and the Weather Bureau warned of possible flooding by the end of the week.

Some tributaries, however, already were reported spilling out of their banks, causing high water and minor flooding in various parts of southern Ohio.

Most cities and towns along the Ohio were expected to reach or pass flood stage by Friday. A preliminary crest of 56 feet was predicted for Cincinnati Friday afternoon—four feet above flood stage.

At Portsmouth, a crest of 55 feet was estimated for late Thursday afternoon, five feet above flood level. At Maysville, Ky., the Ohio was expected to crest at 54.5 feet Friday, 4.5 feet over the flood stage.

The forecasts were revised upward about four feet from predictions issued Monday.

Some roads in several eastern and southeastern Ohio counties were under water and closed, particularly in the Cambridge area.

High water from tributaries also was reported in Meigs, Pike and Pickaway counties and in the Ironton area of Lawrence County. Some schools closed today because of the high waters, and north of Toronto in Jefferson County, the Highway Patrol reported a rock slide partially blocking Ohio 7.

Rivers and streams also left their banks in eastern Kentucky and West Virginia and families were being evacuated in low-lying areas of those states.

Flooding of the tributaries resulted from heavy rains in Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia. This was compounded by heavy, wet snow that blanketed some areas Monday.

But the Weather Bureau said temperatures are expected to drop in the next couple of days, and this could provide a "break."

A spokesman said the colder weather could give the Ohio a chance to handle snow runoff and also slow down the rain rushing from the ground into the Ohio and tributaries.

Cincinnati was covered by an estimated eight inches of snow by midnight Monday.

Tributaries reported at or above flood stage include the Scioto at Larue, Circleville, Chillicothe and Bournesville; the Hocking at Athens, and the Big Miami and Little Miami in Southwestern Ohio.

The last major floor of the Ohio was in 1964.

Tornadoes Bring Death Into South

High Water Forces Pennsylvania And W.Va Evacuations

By The Associated Press

Swirling flood waters forced hundreds of families from their homes in parts of West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Virginia in the wake of tornadoes that brought death and destruction to Dixie.

In the West high winds and blizzards closed roads in northern and eastern Wyoming.

The merciless March downpour and rising flood waters forced many from their homes in West Virginia communities. An unidentified man drowned near Logan when he tried to swim across a flooded road and the body of a teenager who drowned was found on the bank of the Tug River.

Evacuation continued through the night at Glenview, W.Va., as the Little Kanawha River continued to rise. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers at Wheeling, W.Va., said the Ohio River would crest at Wheeling Wednesday morning at 34 feet—two feet below flood stage.

At Weston, W.Va., National Guard units moved families from their threatened homes, while the Red Cross at Clarksburg—city of 30,000—evacuated 70 families by mid-evening.

At Ripley, W.Va., fire department dispatcher Don Brubaker told newsmen: "Our rescue teams were using hip boots, but we had to go to boats when the waters of Mill Creek kept rising."

More than 4 inches of rain fell

River Slated To Crest At Flood Stage

The Ohio River in this area was expected to crest just at flood stage late Wednesday afternoon, a late morning report indicated.

The river was rising at Montgomery Dam at Industry, and stood at 28.8 feet at 11 a. m. Flood stage there is 32 feet, the same as at East Liverpool.

Officials said the river was expected to crest at the Pittsburgh flood stage at noon Wednesday and the crest would reach Montgomery about 6 p. m. tomorrow.

This morning at 8 a. m. the river stood at 28.7 feet at the lower pool at Montgomery and 18 feet at the upper pool.

Water was creeping up in lower places along the river and a road in Potter Township in Beaver County was closed this morning when water from Raccoon Creek flooded it.

The Beaver River crested at 7.6 feet at Beaver Falls this morning, and began to recede.

Temporary Measure Planner's Duties Taken By Mayor

Mayor George E. Willshaw told Council Monday night he is willing to assume the duties of city planning coordinator temporarily if the municipality will provide money to cover his actual out-of-pocket expenses for travel and other items.

Council indicated informally it will accept the mayor's offer, allowing him to fill the post in addition to his other work until the city feels a full-time appointee is required.

Willshaw told Council he believes the city will need a full-time coordinator before the end of 1967. He asked for an appropriation "not to exceed $2,500" to cover expenses. In addition to travel to Columbus, Chicago and Washington, funds may be needed to call in representatives of the professional planning firm of Carroll V. Hill & Associates for consultation and advice, the mayor said.

THE MAYOR'S proposal was made in a caucus session. He said he believes the city can operate with a part-time coordinator at present, but feels that a full-time appointee will be required as the city moves ahead with more and more projects under the "master plan" program.

When the city has zoning, building and plumbing codes in effect, it also will feel the need of a full-time worker, Willshaw added.

His proposal resolved, at least temporarily, an apparent deadlock in Council over the City Planning Commission's proposal for appointment of a coordinator. The commission had suggested that the city hire a coordinator.

Hoffa Begins To Serve His Prison Term

Says He Still Has Faith In Lawyers To Get New Trial

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa surrendered today to begin serving an eight-year federal jury tampering sentence and said "beware of losing your constitutional rights."

Hoffa, 54, still contending his conviction was a result of a federal vendetta against him, said "if the government can do this to Hoffa it can do it to anybody."

Hoffa was to be fingerprinted and then taken by car and plane to the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa.

Hoffa said he still had faith that his lawyers will ultimately be successful in their efforts to win him a new trial.

But he added: "It's a very unhappy day of my life.

"I pleaded innocent in Tennessee and in all my appeals I have charged that there has been wiretapping, eavesdropping and surveillance," he said.

"They did everything they could unconstitutionally to place me in jail and they have done so temporarily, but my attorneys will appeal."

"I appeal to all members of organized labor to tell them that none of the courts or legislators understand your problems. Only you who work with your hands know your problems."

"The organization I left behind is a strong one. And I hope to return to it. My health is good."

"I hope that everyone knows that this is not purely a question of getting Hoffa. It's a question for every citizen. If they can do this to a Hoffa, they can do it to every citizen. And I tell every one to look out for his rights."

Parking Ban Ordered

Snow Cleanup Will Begin Downtown Tonight At 10

Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey today ordered a parking ban tonight, effective at 9, for large segments of the downtown area to permit a cleanup of the snow that snarled traffic and parking.

A grader, several trucks and the city's new snow blower will be used in the job, designed primarily to clear the snow away from curbside parking spots before it turns into a heavy accumulation of ice.

The grader will shove the snow into the middle of the street. Then the snow blower will be used to load the snow onto the trucks. The snow will be dumped on a vacant tract in West End at the rear of Westgate School.

The cleanup will begin tonight at 10 at the junction of E. 5th and Walnut Sts. The crews will move along 5th St. for its entire length, as far as City Hospital. The work then will shift to W. 5th and Monroe Sts. The cleanup will move north on Monroe street.

River Slated To Crest At Flood Stage

The Ohio River in this area was expected to crest just at flood stage late Wednesday afternoon, a late morning report indicated.

The river was rising at Montgomery Dam at Industry, and stood at 28.8 feet at 11 a. m. Flood stage there is 32 feet, the same as at East Liverpool.

Officials said the river was expected to crest at the Pittsburgh flood stage at noon Wednesday and the crest would reach Montgomery about 6 p.m. tomorrow.

This morning at 8 a.m. the river stood at 28.7 feet at the lower pool at Montgomery and 18 feet at the upper pool.

Water was creeping up in lower places along the river and a road in Potter Township in Beaver County was closed this morning when water from Raccoon Creek flooded it.

The Beaver River crested at 7.6 feet at Beaver Falls this morning, and began to recede.

attempting to locate the power problem.

AT MIDLAND, Supt. Wilbur Dersheimer said the 1,150 pupils were kept home because of the difficulty of transportation. He said past records indicated buses and teachers would be late or unable to reach buildings.

Classes for Western Beaver's 1,820 students and South Side's 1,100 pupils were canceled for the same reasons — snow-blocked roads and slick main roads.

THE HANCOCK County sheriff's department reported that main roads have been scraped and are passable, but remain very hazardous. They urged extreme caution on the part of motorists.

The West Virginia Road Commission garage at Pughtown said road crews worked during the night plowing roads and salting to melt snow, although some snow remained on roads from the continuing storm.

The crews were beginning to plow and cinder secondary roads late this morning. Two graders and six trucks were being used in various clearing operations.

Robert H. Hall, Hancock County school superintendent, reported schools closed throughout the county.

The Highway Patrol at Winterville reported a snowfall of 8 to 10 inches, with roads "very bad."

IN WELLSVILLE, the threat of flood added to the problem. Fire Chief Robert Lewis said the flood walls on Wells Ave. will not be put in place, however, since there is no real threat. He said his forecast information calls for a crest five to six feet below the minimum level suggested for construction of the flood gates. He asked residents not to contact his department for flood information.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare said the heavy snows put the city's new grader "to its first real test."

According to Baldasare, the equipment was out all night and had the main arteries to and from the city, including Routes 45, 39 and 7, clear by 5 a. m. Highland Ave., the cemetery road and some of the parking meter areas also were cleared.

"It worked better than I expected," the director said, explaining that for the first time in his memory trucks were not jacked along the western end of the city.

The grader and salt trucks left the city streets early today in order to clear paths to the three pumping stations in Wellsville, Baldasare said. He pointed out that the pumps must be accessible in case of a flood emergency.

No refuse pickups were made in the city today, Baldasare said, but schedules are expected to return to normal by tomorrow.

Supt. Lowell B. Myers said the school closing was brought about by impassable back roads.

gested an annual salary of $9,000. The question never was taken onto the floor after several members indicated they believed the city did not need a full-time coordinator at present. They also questioned the proposed salary.

Among other things, the coordinator will be required to travel frequently to Columbus to confer with the Ohio Development Department and to Chicago and Washington to meet with regional and national officials of federal agencies that have been asked to provide aid for local programs.

The mayor already has performed many of the duties of a coordinator in an unofficial role. For instance, he did most of the work in preparation of a so-called "workable program" for municipal development to qualify the city for many phases of federal aid, including low-rent housing.

IN RELATED action last night, Council received a letter from the Planning Commission advising that at its February meeting the commission discussed the need for a coordinator.

"We feel it is necessary to have prompt action on this matter to carry out the plans of the commission," the letter said. Council ordered it filed.

In other business, Council set up two new traffic regulations and rescinded another. The changes were made on the recommendation of Councilman Floyd Murray, chairman of the street committee.

Council agreed to a 90-day trial of one-way traffic, south only, on Rigby St. from Prospect St. to Norton St. The change was requested at the Feb. 20 meeting by Councilman James Lowe.

Council agreed to remove "no parking" signs from a short stretch of Anna St., near Elizabeth St., and allow all-day parking. Councilman Frank Duffy explained the street is close to the Hall China Co. and is used by many of the pottery's employees. The "no parking" rule was established in the area adjacent to a grocery store which is no longer in business, he said.

Council also agreed to establish a parking ban on the east side of Elizabeth St. from Harvey Ave. to Agner Alley — about a half a block.

Council filed the annual report of the Civil Service Commission, which showed it conducted 16 examinations during 1966. The commission said 71 applied for the tests, with 59 getting passing grades, six failing and six failing to appear.

The commission said it spent $1,806, leaving a $256 balance in its appropriation.

The commission also filed a $2,100 budget for 1967. It was referred to the finance committee.

COUNCIL asked the street committee to investigate a petition with four signatures asking that the city open Curry St. from Crestview Dr. to Cartwright St. The same committee was given a letter from two property owners asking that the city vacate a stretch of ground between 345 Grant St. and 347 Grant St. The land formerly served as an extension of Green Ln., but it has not been used for some years, the letter said. It was signed by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Burlingame of 345 Grant St. and Mr. and Mrs. Dorham Treadway of 347 Grant St.

The land now is covered with paper and other refuse, the letter said. The two couples said they will clean up the litter and plant grass if the tract reverts to them.

The claims committee was given a $60 bill against the city from Mrs. Lillian M. Carter of 947 Monaca St., who said she was injured in a fall on ice on Pennsylvania Ave. Feb. 10.

The finance committee was given the annual budget of the Health Department totaling $26,732.

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vorey asked if any action has been taken on two matters he referred to Council a few weeks ago — a request from an unidentified firm to lease the 2nd St. Playground property from the city and the director's suggestion that consideration be given to disposing of the former street barn on Lisbon St. at W. 9th St.

Councilman Robert W. Sample replied both questions are being studied by the planning committee.

Duffy reported that traffic on Monaca St., Center St. and Broad St. has been impeded by deep mud as a result of recent thaws.

Sample replied that "the bottom fell out of many unimproved streets" because of alternate freezing and thawing.

President Ernest Lowe presided. James Lowe was excused. The meeting opened with invocation by Sample.

believed to have been driving the car when it rounded a curve on Kings Creek Rd. and slid on the icy embankment into the swollen waters.

The car was found lying upside down in the water, with the window on the driver's side completely lowered. Reports indicated that Mr. Frankovich may have gotten out of the car, but was swept down the stream.

Authorities continued searching for the victim throughout the night, despite the more than eight inches of snow which hampered their efforts.

Floods

The rain-fed waters of the Powell River overflowed into a two-mile strip of Big Stone Gap's residential area in Virginia. Operations to evacuate about 100 families were put into effect by the National Guard. The Miss Virginia sewing factory was reported moving out materials and two small business firms in the flooded area also were ready to move.

Flooding forced the evacuation of some homes and blocked roads in low-lying areas along the headwaters of the Ohio River as western Pennsylvania braced for a predicted overnight accumulation of 10 inches or more of snow.

Forecasters said rivers in Pittsburgh would crest at flood stage of 25 feet today and from 5 to 6 feet above flood stage at communities upstream. The snow followed a weekend of steady rain. Two suburban Pittsburgh families fled their homes when the rain and snow loosed a cascade of mud, trees and debris on five homes. No injuries were reported.

Rain drenched eastern Pennsylvania where the downpours started Saturday night. Philadelphia measured 1.45 inches at the International Airport. In the northeastern section — in the anthracite belt — the rain changed to snow.

The western end of the Pennsylvania Turnpike and the northeastern extension of the turnpike were snow covered and that brought out the plows and the road-clearing crews. There were no reports of flooding in eastern Pennsylvania.

Heavy snow caused hazardous driving conditions in the mountains in the far western section of Maryland and the Weather Bureau predicted from 6 to 10 inches. The remainder of the state was doused with heavy rain.

The North Branch of the Potomac River crested just short of 17 feet in Cumberland, Md. Monday and flooded some low-lying fields. Small-craft warnings were up on the southern part of Chesapeake Bay.

Heavy snow warnings were in effect for much of upstate New York where as much as 6 inches was forecast in some areas. Temperatures were in the upper 20s and 30s.

Freezing rain and snow iced Ohio and highways were extremely hazardous. The snow-fall at Port Columbus Airport measured 4½ inches. The Ohio highway patrol said some roads in several counties in the east and southeast were flooded. A number of schools planned to close.

At Athens, Ohio, dormitories

at Ohio University took on water in the basements as the Hocking River rose. That river was due to crest today at Athens at 18½ feet. Flood stage is 17 feet.

High winds and snow forced the closing of several roads in northern and eastern Wyoming. The State Highway Department closed roads in and out of Cheyenne as blizzards reduced visibility to zero.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss... and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss... but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair... now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

The Miss Virginia sewing factory was reported moving out materials and two small business firms in the flooded area also were ready to move.

Flooding forced the evacuation of some homes and blocked roads in low-lying areas along the headwaters of the Ohio River as western Pennsylvania braced for a predicted overnight accumulation of 10 inches or more of snow.

Forecasters said rivers in Pittsburgh would crest at flood stage of 25 feet today and from 5 to 6 feet above flood stage at communities upstream. The snow followed a weekend of steady rain. Two suburban Pittsburgh families fled their homes when the rain and snow loosed a cascade of mud, trees and debris on five homes. No injuries were reported.

Rain drenched eastern Pennsylvania where the downpours started Saturday night. Philadelphia measured 1.45 inches at the International Airport. In the northeastern section — in the anthracite belt — the rain changed to snow.

The western end of the Pennsylvania Turnpike and the northeast extension of the turnpike were snow covered and that brought out the plows and the road-clearing crews. There were no reports of flooding in eastern Pennsylvania.

Heavy snow caused hazardous driving conditions in the mountains in the far western section of Maryland and the Weather Bureau predicted from 6 to 10 inches. The remainder of the state was doused with heavy rain.

The North Branch of the Potomac River crested just short of 17 feet in Cumberland, Md. Monday and flooded some low-lying fields. Small-craft warnings were up on the southern part of Chesapeake Bay.

Heavy snow warnings were in effect for much of upstate New York where as much as 6 inches was forecast in some areas. Temperatures were in the upper 20s and 30s.

Freezing rain and snow iced Ohio and highways were extremely hazardous. The snowfall at Port Columbus Airport measured 4½ inches. The Ohio highway patrol said some roads in several counties in the east and southeast were flooded. A number of schools planned to close.

At Athens, Ohio, dormitories

at Ohio University took on water in the basements as the Hocking River rose. That river was due to crest today at Athens at 18½ feet. Flood stage is 17 feet.

High winds and snow forced the closing of several roads in northern and eastern Wyoming. The State Highway Department closed roads in and out of Cheyenne as blizzards reduced visibility to zero.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss ... and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss ... but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped. But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair ... now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

Supreme Court Appointees

Presidents are flooded with good advice about making U.S. Supreme Court appointments. Lyndon Johnson, who will have at least one appointment to make this year and perhaps several more before long, is being advised to a fare-thee-well.

In the end, he will do what all other chief executives have done. He will use his own judgment, subject to the political pressures that beset presidents from all sides on all occasions.

Meanwhile, it would be a good idea if some of his advisers were to acknowledge two central facts about Supreme Court appointees:

1. They do not have to be the greatest jurists of all time. Few of them have been. This has not destroyed or even shaken the pillars of society. The truth is the justices do not have to be lawyers, though it would be foolish to expect a nonlawyer to find his way through legal mumbo-jumbo even with the guidance of an eager-beaver law clerk.

2. Supreme Court justices rise to the occasion, so to speak. Notable mediocrities have gained in stature until they loomed 10 feet high in their robes. They did this because they proved to be philosophers in the law and were willing to do their mental homework.

In other words, a Supreme Court appointment sobers an appointee. He tries to fill the largest shoes he ever has tried on. He tries to still the tongues of doubters who say he has been overmatched. It can do wonderful things to a man to know he is set for life at a handsome salary and needs only to prove he is worth it.

Ed Sargus

We knew Ed Sargus through his visits to the office when he was campaigning for the Ohio Senate. Though the visits were infrequent and brief, Mr. Sargus always left a favorable impression.

He possessed a steadfastness of purpose which one had to admire. His tireless battle on behalf of stronger strip mine legislation enacted by the General Assembly was an example.

Mr. Sargus was a sound legislator and a welcome friend. It's regrettable that his career has been terminated by unexpected death at the comparatively early age of 55.

Ohio Bond Commission Bonus

An unexpected benefit from voter acceptance of the proposed Ohio Bond Commission could be a trial of annual legislative sessions without changing present law.

House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess feels approval of the commission may make it necessary to hold annual sessions to okay bond proposals because of changes in the general revenue fund or in the political lineup of the legislature.

Congressmen are unable to tell at this time how much work will be involved in transacting commission-connected business; but it appears that a portion of the second legislative year will be needed.

Rep. Kurfess says the legislature can meet every year without changing the state constitution, merely by recessing at the end of the regular session, instead of adjourning.

Then the legislature could be called back at any time during its regular two-year term.

Rep. Kurfess has the support of those who believe there is a need for annual sessions. They feel if given a try in this manner, the need will be made obvious.

He also has some support from the other side of the aisle because opponents of annual sessions like the idea of being able to abandon the policy quickly if it proves impractical.

If this experiment does develop and bring the answer to the long-standing question of annual sessions, it will be a bonus because no legislator ever has been able to convince his colleagues that conducting Ohio's business is an annual job.

A Thing Of Beauty

A heavy snow brings its woes, but it also brings beauty in its own way.

A Fredericktown area woman was among several who called to describe the "winter wonderland" which had settled over the tree-covered hills.

A motorist stuck in the drifts, a pedestrian wading ankle deep, a milkman trudging through uncharged paths may miss the point. But many in the outlying areas, fortunately, still can take time out from the labors that snow brings to appreciate the thing of beauty it is in many, many forms.

John Bull's Dilemma

Britain is belatedly facing its moment of truth about organized gambling.

It has found to its sorrow and horror that professional gamblers have no point of satiety. British laws legalizing gambling on nonprofit basis were pounced on by professionals and turned into a joke. Today, Britain is engulfed by gambling and the shady characters who are its camp followers.

In a curious twist of injustice, British reaction from the realization that bad people have been carrying what supposedly was a good thing too far, an old-time movie actor in U.S. films, George Raft, has been chosen for an object lesson.

He has been told he will not be welcome if he returns to Britain, where he had been host of the Colony Club, one of London's many plush gambling establishments. Presumably, the ban was imposed on the basis of reports of the old-time actor's friendship with U.S. gambling figures. But Raft was not an owner, merely an employee.

A legislative proposal is supposedly in the works to remove all profit from gambling clubs. But a skeptic must doubt that the British would want to do anything to destroy gambling outright.

They are inveterate gamblers. It is currently estimated that gambling Britons now support 15,000 turf accountants, more than 2,000 profit-making bingo parlors and possibly as many as 1,000 gambling casinos.

They have nothing like Nevada, but on the other hand Nevada has nothing like a threatened law to take the profit out of gambling clubs, either.

Divergent Views

WASHINGTON

The Johnson administration appears baffled by the failure of the North Vietnamese to give some sign they will cool down their part of the war if the United States stops bombing them.

They have a good reason for sticking it out as long as they can, since their goal is to communicate all Vietnam. They would have to make concessions and their supporters might lose heart if they stopped fighting to talk peace.

They may have another reason, just as valid to them, for yielding nothing: the hope that if they hang on long enough American politics and public opinion may force the Johnson administration to back down.

They know American public opinion is divided. The anti-war hubbub here, in and out of Congress, is heard around the world. No wonder if the North Vietnamese believe, given time, the anti-war opinion will prevail.

Nor would it be a wonder if both political parties take on a more dove-like look as the American presidential election draws near if by then the anti-war feeling grows more intense here.

WHAT WOULD you think about your war chances if you were a North Vietnamese and saw or heard what follows in one day, one week, or a month?

Two Democratic senators, Thomas J. McIntyre, N.H., and Robert C. Byrd, W.Va., solidly backed President Johnson's decision to use Navy guns against North Vietnam. But another Democrat, Sen. Joseph S. Clark, Pa., was unhappy.

He wanted Congress to make it necessary to declare war before continuing the bombing raids. He spoke three hours. But Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., was against the idea.

Such a declaration, he said, might bring into force treaties involving the Soviet Union, Red China and others in the hostilities. At the same time he hit at Johnson for being too soft, saying he had been victimized by false peace rumors.

Another Southern Democrat, Sen. John L. McClellan of Arkansas, wanted to see the bombing stepped up. But not Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat and constant critic of Johnson. He said you can't seek peace with bombs.

In the House, 11 Democrats opposed the bombing. Michigan State University faculty members called for a halt to it. Anti-war demonstrations continue around the country.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, another Arkansas Democrat and a constant Johnson critic, suggested it might be more profitable to bomb North Vietnam's bicycles, rather than the bridges, since the Communists depend on bicycles so much.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara publicly admitted the bombing had not stopped North Vietnam's supplies to the south, but thought the bombing helped South Vietnam's morale.

A Republican, Rep. H. R. Gross, Iowa, complained the bombing wasn't tough enough and said Johnson had "diabolically shackled our fighting men," besides having a "no-win" policy.

BUT NEW YORK'S Republican senator, Jacob K. Javits, wanted the bombing stopped and urged Republicans to become the party of peace in presidential 1968, saying they could right Johnson's mistakes and end the war. He also suggested the Viet Cong be allowed into the South Vietnamese government.

But the Republican Senate leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, wanted no part of that. He posted a challenge to any peace conference which included Viet Cong. Another Republican disagreed. This was a new senator, Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, who said "you must negotiate with those you're fighting."

Edwin O. Reischauer, former U.S. ambassador to Japan, urged Americans to keep the war out of the 1968 election because, if pressed for an end to it in the next 18 months, they might agree to an unwise settlement.

And, most recently, New York Democratic senator Robert F. Kennedy irked Johnson no end by suggesting this country end the bombing and wait — he didn't say how long — to see if the North Vietnamese would then show peace signs.

Silver and gold coins are milled around their edges for the reason that people used to pare the edges of coins, especially gold coins, and then sell the precious metal. This was, of course, stealing the nation's money, and to prevent this the edges of these coins were milled so that no one could pare them without letting it be seen at once.

WASHINGTON

It appears from what has been happening recently that the chances for a Vietnam peace settlement are getting dimmer all the time. While the United States and Hanoi both insist they're ready to sit down for unconditional talks, more conditions are being raised every day.

I wouldn't be surprised in the next few months if the public should be reading the following news dispatches:

"WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dean Rusk confirmed today that the United States was willing to discuss unconditional peace talks with North Vietnam at any time. But the secretary added Hanoi would have to make some gesture to show it was serious in seeking peace.

"When asked what kind of gesture would be required, Rusk replied, 'We're willing to accept any gesture. For example, if Ho Chi Minh would surrender his army to Martha Raye on the Bob Hope Chrysler TV Theater, we might be willing to sit down and talk.'"

"HANOI — The North Vietnamese News Agency announced today that Hanoi was willing to meet with American officials to discuss a cease-fire in Vietnam. The only condition Hanoi laid down for the parley was that while the talks were going on Lady Bird Johnson would be required to personally replace every tree the Americans defoliated in the demilitarized zone."

"WASHINGTON — A White House spokesman said that its decision to sink all ships in the Haiphong Harbor last night was the latest attempt on the part of President Johnson to get peace talks under way. The spokesman reiterated President Johnson's pledge to meet with the aggressors anywhere, anytime, providing the meetings were held at the LBJ ranch where, as an act of good faith, the North Vietnamese would have to eat Texas chili and drink six-shooter coffee."

"HANOI — Premier Pham Van Dong of North Vietnam told a Yemen newspaperman that he felt that peace talks could start at any time. He said his reason for optimism was that there was only one item standing in the way of talks, and that was Hanoi's demand that the United States scuttle the Seventh Fleet in the Gulf of Tonkin. He felt that once this condition was met, there would be no problem in reaching a settlement on the major issues of the day."

"SAIGON — Premier Ky of South Vietnam denied today that his government was standing in the way of a cessation of hostilities in Vietnam. He told reporters, 'We are willing to meet the National Liberation Front halfway. If they agree to stand trial as war criminals and face a firing squad, I am ready to sit down and deal with them.'"

"HANOI — President Ho Chi Minh held out an olive branch today to the United States. He said that he could see no reason why some solution of the war could not be worked out which could save face for both countries.

"Ho's suggestion was that if the Americans agreed to pull all their forces out of South Vietnam, he would name a high school after Lyndon Baines Johnson in Hanoi."

"WASHINGTON — President Johnson said today the criticism of yesterday's invasion of North Vietnam by Nervous Nellies in Congress was hurting his efforts to find a peaceful solution to the Vietnam problem. He denied the invasion had anything to do with his election in 1968. He said, 'I know there's peace out there somewhere, and I'm not leaving any stone unturned to find it.'"

Luck Of The Draw

By Ray Cromley

Those who argue for the "luck-of-the-draw" lottery—a blindfolded man pulling out names or numbers by chance or a roulette wheel approach—forget Selective Service has a "lottery" now.

Liability is based on date of birth. This is as much a matter of chance as anything you are likely to get in this world.

The system calls basically for inducting liable men in a straightforward fashion, beginning with age 25 and moving down, oldest first. No one can juggle the order of call.

Removed of course, are the exempt, the deferred and the men who don't pass the tests. Delinquents, men whose deferments have run out, some married men without children and others come in special categories.

Lottery men argue against so many deferments. But whether there are more deferments or fewer or none at all has nothing to do with a lottery. All Congress would have to do would be to change the qualifications for deferment.

There is more fairness in lottery by date of birth than in any other system of chance. The young man knows where he stands in line because he can check at what age men are currently being called.

Of course, the young man doesn't know whether he will be called or not—or at exactly what age—well in advance. But no luck-of-the-draw lottery of itself will tell him those things either.

Proponents of such a lottery say it will. They would call for drawings. Those who "escape" won't be called — ever.

This assumes the Department of Defense knows how many men the armed forces will need for years in the future, how many men will enlist and re-enlist voluntarily in that time and how many men will fail to pass their physical and mental tests.

If the Defense Department had this kind of a crystal ball, young men under the present system, too, would be able to tell where they stood well in advance with a greater degree of certainty. A lottery would make things more uncertain by adding another complication to the birth-date order.

Public Opinion

By David Lawrence

House 'Hears From Country'

Public opinion in America can act swiftly and decisively when aroused. That's what happened when the House of Representatives "heard from the country" and decided to exclude Adam Clayton Powell.

Naturally, there has been a bitter reaction from some of the Negro leaders in various cities. But they, as well as a few members of Congress, may be failing to perceive the true significance of the episode.

Here was a man who had been serving in Harlem as the minister of a Baptist church, but who is formally charged by an investigating committee with having misused government funds. Should he be seated in the House of Representatives?

Many people have been asking why the Department of Justice has not yet initiated a prosecution to determine the legal nature of the frauds alleged to have been committed.

Mail to members of Congress on the Powell case came from the North—primarily from women disturbed by the defiant behavior of Powell as well as his escapades in the Bahamas.

Many citizens resented the fact he ignored court orders and was a fugitive from justice, not even showing up in his own district.

This attitude, together with the cynicism expressed by Powell himself concerning the whole affair, has made a deep impression on persons of all races. While the controversy concerns the behavior of an ordained minister and politician who happens to be a Negro, the indignation of citizens, irrespective of race, throughout the country—particularly women—was expressed in letters to members of the House of Representatives.

THE CIVIL-RIGHTS movement has been making rapid progress in recent years, but it can experience an unfortunate downturn in the number of its supporters if Negro leaders plainly overlook the misdeeds of Adam Clayton Powell and insist he is being punished because of his race.

There are plenty of court cases in which white persons of prominence have been tried and convicted in recent months, including Bobby Baker and James Hoffa. To fail to punish Negroes who misappropriate public funds would be to discriminate in favor of one race as against another. This is the point that members of Congress weighed when they read the mail from back home.

News reports state that lawyers for Powell will appeal to the courts on constitutional grounds and ask for an annulment of the vote of the House of Representatives.

A few members think there are some points on his side. But the precedents are against him.

Each house is, under the Constitution, judge of the "qualifications" of its members, and this is by no means limited to questions of residence or age. Each house has a right to determine whether it will admit a person to its membership and allow him to vote on public issues when his integrity has been questioned by a committee of the house.

It has also been pointed out by some of the defenders of Powell that in the special election forthcoming he will run for office and doubtless will be elected once more.

But the House of Representatives is under no obligation to accept anybody who, by his record, has convinced a majority of the members he is unfit to be a part of the legislative branch of the government.

IF CONGRESS is told by the courts it must accept anybody who is, according to the findings of a select committee, lacking in integrity and whose improper influence could be exerted upon other members and the employees of congress, itself, then the courts would be taking upon themselves a jurisdiction which has no precedent in the judicial history of America.

As for the Harlem district, it will be a sad day for the cause of civil rights if those people in the South and elsewhere who have been antagonistic to Negro voting will be able to point to the New York district and claim Negroes have misused their voting rights.

They will be accused of insisting upon the election of a candidate for the House of Representatives who, by overwhelming vote of the members, has been formally declared to be unqualified for admission.

"WASHINGTON—A White House spokesman said that its decision to sink all ships in the Haiphong Harbor last night was the latest attempt on the part of President Johnson to get peace talks under way. The spokesman reiterated President Johnson's pledge to meet with the aggressors anywhere, anytime, providing the meetings were held at the LBJ ranch where, as an act of good faith, the North Vietnamese would have to eat Texas chili and drink six-shooter coffee."

"HANOI—Premier Pham Van Dong of North Vietnam told a Yemen newspaperman that he felt that peace talks could start at any time. He said his reason for optimism was that there was only one item standing in the way of talks, and that was Hanoi's demand that the United States scuttle the Seventh Fleet in the Gulf of Tonkin. He felt that once this condition was met, there would be no problem in reaching a settlement on the major issues of the day."

"SAIGON—Premier Ky of South Vietnam denied today that his government was standing in the way of a cessation of hostilities in Vietnam. He told reporters, 'We are willing to meet the National Liberation Front halfway. If they agree to stand trial as war criminals and face a firing squad, I am ready to sit down and deal with them.'"

"HANOI—President Ho Chi Minh held out an olive branch today to the United States. He said that he could see no reason why some solution of the war could not be worked out which could save face for both countries.

"Ho's suggestion was that if the Americans agreed to pull all their forces out of South Vietnam, he would name a high school after Lyndon Baines Johnson in Hanoi."

"WASHINGTON—President Johnson said today the criticism of yesterday's invasion of North Vietnam by Nervous Nellies in Congress was hurting his efforts to find a peaceful solution to the Vietnam problem. He denied the invasion had anything to do with his election in 1968. He said, 'I know there's peace out there somewhere, and I'm not leaving any stone unturned to find it.'"

Luck Of The Draw

By Ray Cromley

Those who argue for the "luck-of-the-draw" lottery—a blindfolded man pulling out names or numbers by chance or a roulette wheel approach—forget Selective Service has a "lottery" now.

Liability is based on date of birth. This is as much a matter of chance as anything you are likely to get in this world.

The system calls basically for inducting liable men in a straightforward fashion, beginning with age 25 and moving down, oldest first. No one can juggle the order of call.

Removed of course, are the exempt, the deferred and the men who don't pass the tests. Delinquents, men whose deferments have run out, some married men without children and others come in special categories.

Lottery men argue against so many deferments. But whether there are more deferments or fewer or none at all has nothing to do with a lottery. All Congress would have to do would be to change the qualifications for deferment.

There is more fairness in lottery by date of birth than in any other system of chance. The young man knows where he stands in line because he can check at what age men are currently being called.

Of course, the young man doesn't know whether he will be called or not—or at exactly what age—well in advance. But no luck-of-the-draw lottery of itself will tell him those things either.

Proponents of such a lottery say it will. They would call for drawings. Those who "escape" won't be called — ever.

This assumes the Department of Defense knows how many men the armed forces will need for years in the future, how many men will enlist and re-enlist voluntarily in that time and how many men will fail to pass their physical and mental tests.

If the Defense Department had this kind of a crystal ball, young men under the present system, too, would be able to tell where they stood well in advance with a greater degree of certainty. A lottery would make things more uncertain by adding another complication to the birth-date order.

Proponents of the luck-of-the-draw lottery say that if Selective Service had such a lottery at 18 or 19, then the "older" men — the men who had passed that lottery age — would know they were in free. They could plan for the future.

Again this assumes the Pentagon will know its needs years in advance. A lottery won't determine how many men the Army or the Navy or Air Force will have to have.

Be that as it may men over 19 would still have as much certainty under the present system as under a lottery by draw if the youngest liable men were called first instead of the oldest under 26.

The problem of what age to call first is a separate problem. The Defense Department, the Congress and the people of this nation will have to decide what they want. It has nothing to do with whether there's a lottery.

If Selective Service drew capsules out of a fish bowl and picked the 24-year-olds first, there would be the same uncertainty as now among the 19-year-olds.

Whatever system is used, there won't be certainty. War and peace are uncertain things. These days there's a great deal of fuzziness between cold war, hot war, little war and guerrilla war periods. From year to year it is exceedingly difficult to predict how many men the armed forces will need to call.

Odd Facts

The public weather service of the United States began in 1870 as part of the Army Signal Corps. In 1890, the Weather Bureau was made a part of the Department of Agriculture. It was moved to the Department of Commerce in 1940.

The commonest, or most widely distributed, flowering plant in the world is the toothed grass, known botanically as "cynodon dactylon," and found as far apart as Canada, Argentina, New Zealand, and Japan.

The largest eyes in the world are those of the great blue whale, whose eyeball is about five inches in diameter.

Public Opinion

By David Lawrence

House 'Hears From Country'

Public opinion in America can act swiftly and decisively when aroused. That's what happened when the House of Representatives "heard from the country" and decided to exclude Adam Clayton Powell.

Naturally, there has been a bitter reaction from some of the Negro leaders in various cities. But they, as well as a few members of Congress, may be failing to perceive the true significance of the episode.

Here was a man who had been serving in Harlem as the minister of a Baptist church, but who is formally charged by an investigating committee with having misused government funds. Should he be seated in the House of Representatives?

Many people have been asking why the Department of Justice has not yet initiated a prosecution to determine the legal nature of the frauds alleged to have been committed.

Mail to members of Congress on the Powell case came from the North—primarily from women disturbed by the defiant behavior of Powell as well as his escapades in the Bahamas.

Many citizens resented the fact he ignored court orders and was a fugitive from justice, not even showing up in his own district.

This attitude, together with the cynicism expressed by Powell himself concerning the whole affair, has made a deep impression on persons of all races. While the controversy concerns the behavior of an ordained minister and politician who happens to be a Negro, the indignation of citizens, irrespective of race, throughout the country—particularly women—was expressed in letters to members of the House of Representatives.

THE CIVIL-RIGHTS movement has been making rapid progress in recent years, but it can experience an unfortunate downturn in the number of its supporters if Negro leaders plainly overlook the misdeeds of Adam Clayton Powell and insist he is being punished because of his race.

There are plenty of court cases in which white persons of prominence have been tried and convicted in recent months, including Bobby Baker and James Hoffa. To fail to punish Negroes who misappropriate public funds would be to discriminate in favor of one race as against another. This is the point that members of Congress weighed when they read the mail from back home.

News reports state that lawyers for Powell will appeal to the courts on constitutional grounds and ask for an annulment of the vote of the House of Representatives.

A few members think there are some points on his side. But the precedents are against him.

Each house is, under the Constitution, judge of the "qualifications" of its members, and this is by no means limited to questions of residence or age. Each house has a right to determine whether it will admit a person to its membership and allow him to vote on public issues when his integrity has been questioned by a committee of the house.

It has also been pointed out by some of the defenders of Powell that in the special election forthcoming he will run for office and doubtless will be elected once more.

But the House of Representatives is under no obligation to accept anybody who, by his record, has convinced a majority of the members he is unfit to be a part of the legislative branch of the government.

IF CONGRESS is told by the courts it must accept anybody who is, according to the findings of a select committee, lacking in integrity and whose improper influence could be exerted upon other members and the employees of congress, itself, then the courts would be taking upon themselves a jurisdiction which has no precedent in the judicial history of America.

As for the Harlem district, it will be a sad day for the cause of civil rights if those people in the South and elsewhere who have been antagonistic to Negro voting will be able to point to the New York district and claim Negroes have misused their voting rights.

They will be accused of insisting upon the election of a candidate for the House of Representatives who, by overwhelming vote of the members, has been formally declared to be unqualified for admission.

Western Beaver Advances Plans On New Addition

Three resolutions concerning phases of bidding procedures on a new Western Beaver High School addition were approved when the board of directors met Monday night.

B. J. McCandless, architect, presented the resolutions involving swimming pool facilities, the sewage treatment plant and the water supply for the addition. The board will request the state school authority to proceed with obtaining bids on the pool subject to the approval of the State Department of Health.

THE BOARD will also ask permission from the state public school building authority and the department of Public Instruction to permit the school district to obtain alternate bids on the swimming pool area and an additional 250 seats in the auditorium.

School Supt. Frank Meredith said this would permit more flexibility in the bidding and the directors would have a wider selection at the bid openings at Harrisburg.

Another measure stated the present sewage equipment is capable of handling an additional load from the addition, since, when it was originally built, it was constructed large enough to accommodate the Snyder and high school plus anticipated additions.

The third measure states the school district will provide water for the addition.

BILLS $85,888 were approved, including $47,765 for the monthly payroll.

An amendment to the articles of agreement for the Beaver County Community College was approved, setting a 3-mill limit on the school district taxation for the college.

Home instruction was approved for David Jobe and Cathy Brown, who are ill at home.

Donald Nelson, high school art teacher, was granted permission to take his art elective classes to Pittsburgh March 21 to view an exhibit at the Carnegie Institute.

Don Sekeres, high school coach, was granted permission to attend a recreation and park conference at Harrisburg April 30-May 3.

The report stated minor repairs are needed and the recommended they be considered at the budget meeting.

The school's health manual as presented by Dr. James Sloss school physician, and Mrs. Patricia Moreth, nurse, was adopted. Athletic bills totaling $444 were paid.

The next meeting will be April 3 at 8 p.m.

3 Given Term In County Jail 13 Juveniles In Beer Party

Agreeing with the defendants that the County Jail is more comfortable than the City Jail in cold weather, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today remanded three men to Lisbon to serve out sentences in lieu of fines.

The "on-to-Lisbon" movement was started by George Scurlock of Wellston, originally fined $25 and costs on an intoxication charge followed an alleged disturbance Monday afternoon at 4 in a coin-operated laundry on State St.

"Can't you make that the County Jail — it's warmer?" Scurlock asked the court. So the judge raised his fine to $50 and costs "so that you'll spend at least 10 days in warm surroundings with adequate food."

"I wouldn't send a dog out in this weather," the judge added.

Wayne Tindler of Fairmont, W. Va., arrested with Scurlock in the laundry, also was given a $50 fine and remanded to Lisbon. He told the judge he is a friend of Scurlock.

"I don't want to break up a friendship," the judge said.

At the outset of the session, Oliver Kirkham of Maplewood Ave. was fined $25 and costs on an intoxication charge and remanded to jail in default of payment.

Police said he was arrested Monday at 5:59 p.m. at the Roma Cafe on Dresden Ave. when he refused to pay a $3.85 restaurant check.

"Wouldn't you rather go to the County Jail, Oliver?" the judge asked. Kirkham agreed, so his fine also was raised to $50 and costs.

Cow's Owner Sued In Crash

LISBON—Testimony resumed this morning in Common Pleas Court in a $529.53 civil suit resulting from a car-cow accident on Route 30 near East Rochester.

Grange Mutual Casualty Co. issuing Harry R. Elton, owner of the 1,400-pound Hereford struck by an auto driven by David Plott of Kensington.

The car is owned by the driver's father, Paul Plott of Minerva R. D. 2, who had insurance with Grange Mutual. The firm paid him for damages to the car and seeks to recover from Elton, alleging he was negligent in allowing the cow to get off his farm.

Young Plott, a high school student at the time of the accident Feb. 9, 1965, said he saw the cow in the road and tried to stop, but it walked in front of his car about the middle of the road. The cow had to be destroyed.

Plott said the cow stood for a moment, then walked off the south side of the highway. Mrs. Walter Harsh of East Rochester testified she saw the cow fly through the air and land in the ditch.

The jury visited the scene of the accident before hearing testimony. On the panel sworn yesterday by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard are John Cooper, Robert Cain, William Krauss, Kenneth Sharrow and James Garrett, Salem; Dorothy Gumble, Rogers; Allen R. Bloor, Leetonia; Melvin Stark, Lisbon; Louise McCoy, Kensington; Coletta Kelly, Summitville, and James Davidson and Allen Cipolloni, Wellsville, Judy Stevens, Columbiana, is the alternate.

Bezdek won, 10-5. A discussion arose over whether Bezdek can be on the board since member Glen Hawkins of New Waterford R. D. 1 also resides in Elkrum Township. Some council members pointed out that Cole and Frank Murray, elected last year, both reside in Center Township.

Another question raised this morning in the Health Department office was whether the election itself was legal. The statute provides that chairmen of the trustees may not vote by proxy or representative — they must be there in person.

Paul B. Dowdell of Summitville, Franklin Township trustee and council chairman, presided.

An interesting way to make a lobster salad is to cut up the whites or hard-cooked eggs and add to the lobster. The hard-cooked egg yolks should be mashed and blended into the salad dressing.

Penalty Given 6 Pass Exam For City Post

Six men scored passing grades in an examination conducted by the Civil Service Commission Monday night to draw up an eligibility list for the job of utility supplyman in the water works department.

Listed in the order in which they finished, they are:

Melvin Franklin Brown of 674 Spring Grove Ave., Robert Leroy Lockhart of 146 N. Surry Rd., William Edward Sharp of 171 Thompson Ave.

Homer Michael Wright of 1321 Erie St., John Lewis Cupp of 815 Orchard Grove Ave. and Walter Allen Neiser of 1573 Globe St.

The post pays $430 a month. Eight applications had been accepted for the test. One applicant failed to appear and another did not score a passing grade.

As soon as the top three men obtain the required physical examinations, their names will be certified to the Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water department.

The vacancy was created when John Owen transferred from the post of utility supplyman to a vacant supplyman's job.

The 60-story Gothic tower that F. W. Woolworth built on lower Broadway in New York in 1913 was hailed as a "cathedral of Commerce." Woolworth thought of it as a "sky sign" to advertise his five and 10-cent stores.

The offenders and their parents had to sign the journal entry. Judge Tobin said youths who violate the terms will be placed in detention. All are to report regularly to Cornelius Csepke of Salem, Juvenile Court probation officer.

Directed Verdict Won By Firm In $750 Court Suit

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury returned a directed verdict Monday afternoon for the Reserve Life Insurance Co. of Dallas, Tex., defendant in a $750 civil action.

Judge Joel H. Sharp sustained the motion of the firm's counsel for a directed verdict after Donald R. Donaldson Sr. of 429 Main St., Wellsville, the plaintiff, rested his case.

Donaldson testified a representative of the firm hired him in August 1960 to establish and manage an office in East Liverpool. He resigned in October the same year. He sued for $125 per week for the six weeks he said he worked making arrangements for the Reserve Life office.

Defense counsel, in its opening statement, said the evidence would show Donaldson signed an "agency contract" and the company performed all conditions required of it. He said Reserve Life paid Donaldson commission for policies sold, but there was no arrangement to pay him for the work he claimed to have done in the interest of establishing an office.

Members of the jury were Clifford Silverthorne, Elda Forrester, Bertha Adkins and Patricia Heacock, East Liverpool; Lloyd Abbott, Louis Owens, Martha Lesch and George King, Salem; Edith George, Hanoverton; Elizabeth Orsburn, Kensington; Robert Williams, Lisbon, and Hazel Jones, Homeworth.

Palestine Mayor To Submit Plans

EAST PALESTINE — Council Monday night authorized Mayor Robert Harding to submit to the Columbiana County commissioners a proposal for the extension of water and sewer lines recently prepared for the city by an engineering firm.

At a previous meeting attended by residents of the area involved, a district outside the city, commissioners agreed to cooperate, but said they wanted to see the plans.

Harding will meet at Lisbon with the commissioners Thursday.

Council approved a $2,000 expenditure for a fire alert system recently purchased by firemen at a cost of $5,000. This system will be placed in the homes of members of the department.

The money appropriated by Council will supplement the $3,000 already set aside by firemen for the system.

Suspect Files Guilty Plea In Area Stickup

BEAVER — A Rogers (Ohio) man charged with a service station holdup in January 1964 pleaded guilty Monday in Beaver County Court and faces sentencing later.

Robert McMillan of Rogers pleaded guilty to armed robbery of the Highway Oil Co. station on Route 51 in Darlington Township and also to violation of the firearms act.

He was transferred to the Beaver County Jail following his parole from the Federal Penitentiary at Lewisburg, where he served a term for a Koppel bank holdup in 1964.

Robert J. Melczak of New Waterford R. D. 1, convicted of the holdup with McMillan and also charged with the service station robbery, is currently in a federal medical center to which he was transferred from Lewisburg.

In a drug trial which began Monday, Allen Rider of Hollywood, Calif., changed his plea to no defense, and the jury was dismissed.

Rider and William Harper of Sherman Oaks, Calif., were arrested last July for illegal possession of drugs, including LSD.

Harper yesterday said he had no knowledge of the LSD in Rider's possession, and when Rider confirmed this, the charge against Harper was dropped. Rider will be sentenced later.

Penalty Given 13 Juveniles In Beer Party

LISBON — What began as a truancy investigation last Thursday ended in Columbiana County Juvenile Court Monday for 13 Salem High School students.

The nine boys and four girls appeared with their parents to answer a charge of being delinquent for being at a beer party at the home of one of the boys.

Seven of the boys admitted drinking beer in the company of the other boys and girls; one boy admitted stealing the beer from his employer; another admitted having the group at his house, and the girls admitted being there. The journal entry said there was no evidence of drinking or other misconduct on the girls' part.

Judge Louis Tobin found all 13 to be delinquent children, made them wards of the court and placed them on probation to their parents. Most of the students are freshmen and sophomores, a schoolman said.

As conditions of probation they must pay donations to the court from money they earn themselves, attend school every day it is in session unless they have a doctor's certificate, observe a 7 p. m. curfew and refrain from associating with each other. Two of the boys were ordered to get their hair cut before returning to classes.

The offenders and their parents had to sign the journal entry. Judge Tobin said youths who violate the terms will be placed in detention. All are to report regularly to Cornelius Csepke of Salem, Juvenile Court probation officer.

Driver Jailed In 5th Charge

Walter William Krotky of Post Office Box 264, Negley, fined Monday on four traffic charges, was given a 10-day City Jail term this morning when he appeared on a fifth count before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Krotky pleaded guilty this morning to a charge of driving while his operator's permit was under revocation. Police said his license was suspended for two years on Dec. 2, 1965, on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Krotky already was in jail as a result of yesterday's cases, as he was unable to pay fines totaling $50 and costs.

He was cited Thursday night on Washington St. by Patrolman David Huffman. The officer testified yesterday Krotky failed to obey an order to proceed to the police station after he had been placed under arrest, but was taken into custody later on warrants by the sheriff's department.

"They've found another charge to put on me!" Krotky exclaimed when taken before the judge this morning.

"You're not above the law," the judge told the defendant. "You drove when you were not supposed to."

Puzzle Posed Over Post On Health Board

LISBON — The question of the legality of the election of Francis Bzdek to the Columbiana County Board of Health will be presented to Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis.

Debate arose Monday night at the annual meeting of the County Health Advisory Council which, by statute, meets the first Monday in March to elect someone to the County Board of Health for a five-year term.

The council is made up of the chairmen of all township boards of trustees and mayors of the nine villages. Fifteen of the areas were represented.

The group voted between Howard M. Cole, Lisbon attorney and a board member since 1954, whose term expires this year, and Bzdek, a member of the County Health and Safety Council.

Bzdek won, 10-5. A discussion arose over whether Bzdek can be on the board since member Glen Hawkins of New Waterford R. D. 1 also resides in Elkrun Township. Some council members pointed out that Cole and Frank Murray, elected last year, both reside in Center Township.

Another question raised this morning in the Health Department office was whether the election itself was legal. The statute provides that chairmen of the trustees may not vote by proxy or representative — they must be there in person.

Paul B. Dowdell of Summitville, Franklin Township trustee and council chairman, presided.

Cow's Owner Sued In Crash

LISBON—Testimony resumed this morning in Common Pleas Court in a $529.53 civil suit resulting from a car-cow accident on Route 30 near East Rochester.

Grange Mutual Casualty Co. issuing Harry R. Elton, owner of the 1,400-pound Hereford struck by an auto driven by David Plott of Kensington.

The car is owned by the driver's father, Paul Plott of Minerva R. D. 2, who had insurance with Grange Mutual. The firm paid him for damages to the car and seeks to recover from Elton, alleging he was negligent in allowing the cow to get off his farm.

Young Plott, a high school student at the time of the accident Feb. 9, 1965, said he saw the cow in the road and tried to stop, but it walked in front of his car about the middle of the road. The cow had to be destroyed.

Plott said the cow stood for a moment, then walked off the south side of the highway. Mrs. Walter Harsh of East Rochester testified she saw the cow fly through the air and land in the ditch.

The jury visited the scene of the accident before hearing testimony. On the panel sworn in yesterday by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard are John Cooper, Robert Cain, William Krauss, Kenneth Sharrow and James Garrett, Salem; Dorothy Gumble, Rogers; Allen R. Bloom, Leetonia; Melvin Stark, Lisbon; Louise McCoy, Kensington; Coletta Kelly, Summitville, and James Davidson and Allen Cipolloni, Wellsville. Judy Stevens, Columbiana, is the alternate.

Directed Verdict Won By Firm In $750 Court Suit

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury returned a directed verdict Monday afternoon for the Reserve Life Insurance Co. of Dallas, Tex., defendant in a $750 civil action.

Judge Joel H. Sharp sustained the motion of the firm's counsel for a directed verdict after Donald R. Donaldson Sr. of 429 Main St., Wellsville, the plaintiff, rested his case.

Donaldson testified a representative of the firm hired him in August 1960 to establish and manage an office in East Liverpool. He resigned in October the same year. He sued for $125 per week for the six weeks he said he worked making arrangements for the Reserve Life office.

Defense counsel, in its opening statement, said the evidence would show Donaldson signed an "agency contract" and the company performed all conditions required of it. He said Reserve Life paid Donaldson commission for policies sold, but there was no arrangement to pay him for the work he claimed to have done in the interest of establishing an office.

Members of the jury were Clifford Silverthorne, Elda Forrester, Bertha Adkins and Patricia Heacock, East Liverpool; Lloyd Abbott, Louis Owens, Martha Lesch and George King, Salem; Edith George, Hanoverton; Elizabeth Orsburn, Kensington; Robert Williams, Lisbon, and Hazel Jones, Homeworth.

Palestine Mayor To Submit Plans

EAST PALESTINE — Council Monday night authorized Mayor Robert Harding to submit to the Columbiana County commissioners a proposal for the extension of water and sewer lines recently prepared for the city by an engineering firm.

At a previous meeting attended by residents of the area involved, a district outside the city, commissioners agreed to cooperate, but said they wanted to see the plans.

Harding will meet at Lisbon with the commissioners Thursday.

Council approved a $2,000 expenditure for a fire alert system recently purchased by firemen at a cost of $5,000. This system will be placed in the homes of members of the department.

The money appropriated by Council will supplement the $3,000 already set aside by firemen for the system.

Boys Chase Bat Into Cave, Find Way Out Safely

Wellsville authorities had a scare thrown into them Monday afternoon and evening when four young boys, supposedly chasing a bat, became lost in an abandoned clay mine at Brady's Cut, just off the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

The report came to the Wellsville Fire Department early last evening from a playmate of the unidentified youths.

The amateur spelunking ended happily, however, as the boys found their own way out and were home by 8:30. Police Chief John Hepher said this morning.

Cook a package of frozen cut-up green beans and drain; reheat with a small can of drained chopped mushrooms and a nubbin of butter.

If you want life insurance that you can change as often as your way of life changes...

...the man from Nationwide is on your side.

INSURANCE POLICY

You can cover practically anything that comes along just by adding to your one Nationwide policy.

Nationwide thinks it's crazy that you should have to buy a whole new policy every time you need more or less life insurance.

That's why Nationwide invented its Adjustable Life Plan. You can change your coverage as often as your way of life changes — but without all the fuss of having a new policy written. You simply add new coverage to your present policy.

Example: Each time you have a child, your responsibilities as a breadwinner increase so you need more insurance. The man from Nationwide lets you add insurance on yourself to your existing policy. But then as your children grow older, get married and become less dependent, he lets you decrease your insurance if you care to.

Nationwide's Adjustable Life Plan lets you add or subtract nine benefits. But no matter how many times you change your coverage, you never have to pay to have a brand-new policy written. It's simple. It saves you money. And it's one more way the man from Nationwide is on your side.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN HORN

Slaughter Along 6th Ave.

The annual big game of programming is being played at the networks. The shows you will be seeing next fall — the standbys and the hopefuls — are being decided now.

ABC last week unveiled a portion of its autumn schedule and, as if thinking out loud, listed programs that are "still strongly contending" or "under primary consideration."

A SPOKESMAN contended the "iffy" cast of the announcement was because of reporter demand for information.

An NBC source, however, maintained that it was just a case of jockeying for position, that ABC will not firm up its 1967-1968 schedule until NBC reveals its lineup, that it's easier programming when you know what the rival shows are.

The ABC casualties, by process of elimination are Phyllis Diller, "Love on a Puffytop," "Green Hornet" and "Combat." "Batman" is to be cut back half an hour.

The definite new shows are "Off To See the Wizard," a children's early-evening series; "Garrison's Gorillas," a war series, and "The Guns of Will Sonnett," starring Walter Brennan.

STILL FIGHTING for life are "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea," "Iron Horse," "Fugitive," "F Troop," "Time Tunnel" and "Rango."

Among the wishfuls being considered are a Tarzan spoof, a Marx Brothers takeoff, a "Hondo" adaptation and the movie, Joan Blondell also is a possibility as a cleaning woman who inherits a fortune. Familiar, all of them.

ABC promised more than 75 specials next season, too — documentaries, cultural, or entertainment.

CBS was the leader in the annual slaughter of old programs and announcement of the new. It sprang its autumn schedule last week.

THE SURPRISE was the network's getting the draw on "Gunsmoke," the modern morality play in Western garb. It is being replaced by "Mannix," a detective series.

This did not augur a CBS decline of favor for the Western. The network scheduled for the 1967-1968 season two new Westerns, as Variety calls them: "Cimarron Strip," starring Stuart Whitman, and "Dundee and the Culhane," starring John Mills.

Other changes were more or less expected in a general cleanout of ratings deadwood.

Axed were the antiquated game shows — "What's My Line?" "To Tell the Truth" and "I've Got a Secret." Also "Candid Camera," "Danny Kaye,"

"Mr. Terrific," "Pistols 'n Petcoats," "Coliseum" and "It's About Time."

OTHER NEW SHOWS will be "Gentle Ben," about a boy and a bear; "Doc" (John McIntyre), Carol Burnett, "Good Morning, World," about a would-be disc jockey, and "He and She," a comedy about a cartoonist and his wife.

NBC is not talking about next season yet. It plans to reveal all in 10 days or so. Unofficially, the already doomed are "Captain Nice," "I Dream of Jeannie," "Flipper," "Please Don't Eat the Daisies" and Andy Williams.

IN SHORT . . . Carol Channing may have to continue playing "Dolly" in theaters next season. Her projected TV show, with money ready for backing, has not found an enthusiastic response at the networks.

The house of Harcourt, Brace & World, in the first major invasion of TV by a book publisher, will build six UHF stations, the first two at Augusta, Ga., and Denver, Colo.

The Broadway musical, "Cabaret," is a sellout, but star Joel Grey keeps playing the guest-shot circuit on TV.

Robert Vaughn is moonlighting during an "U.N.C.L.E." break in production to appear in the Metro feature film, "Cry Havoc."

With "What's My Line?" canceled and "Bonanza" out of the No. 1 ratings spot because of Smothers Brothers opposition, is anything sacred in TV?

TV Guide continues to have trouble keeping up with the fast-changing season. Just when its Phyllis Diller cover was on the stands, her show was reported dropped by ABC.

Will Imogene Coca again take to commercials now that "It's About Time" is kaput?

Raises Eyed By Zollinger And Dawson

Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger and Treasurer Bert A. Dawson filed letters with Council Monday night asking salary increases effective at the beginning of the new terms for city officials on Jan. 1, 1968.

Zollinger, who is paid $4,200, said he feels his salary should be boosted "to at least $7,200 a year." Dawson, now paid $1,600 annually, did not suggest an increase for his office but cited the salaries paid part-time treasurers in 12 Ohio cities in East Liverpool's population range. He said the average pay is $2,150.

Zollinger's letter also cited the salaries paid treasurers in other Ohio cities who work full-time. They ranged from a low of $7,918 in Berea to a high of $10,348 at Piqua. The average is $9,014.

Zollinger said a report compiled by the Ohio Municipal League and covering auditors in 51 Ohio cities showed that he is the lowest paid. He said all have received pay increases in the last two years, but there has been no boost in the auditor's salary since 1956.

"Considering the responsibility of the position of city auditor, I feel that when the finance committee makes recommendations for pay increases it should take this request into consideration," he said. "It is not right that several city employees with less responsibility should receive more pay than the city auditor."

Dawson's letter pointed out he has not had a pay boost, although the work load of the position has been increased by the addition of sewage accounts and the city income tax office work.

Both explained that Ohio law prohibits a raise to an elected official during a term and, therefore, they could not receive higher salaries until next Jan. 1, when new tenures begin.

Earnings Listed By National Tea

CHICAGO — Because of various factors, including the consumer boycott, the earnings of the National Tea Co. for the fourth quarter did not maintain the record-breaking level of the interim earnings of the first three quarters of 1966.

So said Norman A. Stepelton, company president, in his annual report to shareholders. Despite the sale of 62 stores in the Detroit area, sales for the year ended Dec. 31 were $1,190,494,686, an increase of 2.5 per cent over the previous high of $1,161,948,193 recorded in 1965. "If 1965 sales were to be adjusted to reflect the disposition of these stores, our sales increase would have been 6.8 per cent," Stepelton said.

Net income after taxes was $10,861,775, equal to $1.32 per share, compared with $11,316,190 and $1.32 per share in 1965.

Earnings per share are based upon an average of 8,239,000 shares outstanding during the year, a reduction of 319,000 shares from the average outstanding during the year 1965. This reduction resulted from the company's solicitation of invitations to tender stock, which was concluded Aug. 25. Stepelton explained. The company purchased 758,984 shares at the offering price of $16 per share, increasing its treasury holdings to 909,632 at year end.

In 1966, 28 stores were opened; 15 were new locations and 13 were relocations of older stores. In addition, 54 stores were enlarged or remodeled at a total fixed asset outlay of $2,917,500, or an average of $54,000 per store.

Total expenditures for all capital improvements were $12,785,318, including new and remodeled stores, warehouse and transportation replacements and additions.

Collection Of Rogers Refuse To Continue Under New Plan

ROGERS — Continued collection of refuse has been assured in the village under a new policy with the collection firm, Mayor Glenn Rhodes reported at a meeting of Council Monday night.

The Columbiana Sanitation Co. had advised authorities collection would be discontinued effective last Saturday because of the small number of customers and the necessity of having to go into homes to obtain the refuse.

Rhodes said he conferred with representatives of the firm and it has been agreed the collection will continue.

However, all refuse will have to be placed at the front or rear of the homes, since employees no longer will go indoors to get containers. The $2 fee will continue.

Discussion was held on disposal of the former jail structure. A representative of a his-

The society indicated it would like to transport the structure from the village and restore it.

The annual big game of programming is being played at the networks. The shows you will be seeing next fall — the standbys and the hopefuls — are being decided now.

ABC last week unveiled a portion of its autumn schedule and, as if thinking out loud, listed programs that are "still strongly contending" or "under primary consideration."

A SPOKESMAN contended the "iffy" cast of the announcement was because of reporter demand for information.

An NBC source, however, maintained that it was just a case of jockeying for position, that ABC will not firm up its 1967-1968 schedule until NBC reveals its lineup, that it's easier programming when you know what the rival shows are.

The ABC casualties, by process of elimination are Phyllis Diller, "Love on a Rooftop," "Green Hornet" and "Combat." "Batman" is to be cut back half an hour.

The definite new shows are "Off To See the Wizard," a children's early-evening series; "Garrison's Gorillas," a war series, and "The Guns of Will Sonnett," starring Walter Brennan.

STILL FIGHTING for life are "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea," "Iron Horse," "Fugitive," "F Troop," "Time Tunnel" and "Rango."

Among the wishfuls being considered are a Tarzan spoof, a Marx Brothers takeoff, a "Marx Poppins" imitation and a "Hondo" adaptation of the movie. Joan Blondell also is a possibility as a cleaning woman who inherits a fortune. Familiar, all of them.

ABC promised more than 75 specials next season, too — documentaries, cultural, or entertainment.

CBS was the leader in the annual slaughter of old programs and announcement of the new. It sprang its autumn schedule last week.

THE SURPRISE was the network's getting the draw on "Gunsmoke," the modern morality play in Western garb. It is being replaced by "Mannix," a detective series.

This did not augur a CBS decline of favor for the Western. The network scheduled for the 1967-1968 season two new Westerns, as Variety calls them: "Cimarron Strip," starring Stuart Whitman, and "Dundee and the Culhane," starring John Mills.

Other changes were more or less expected in a general cleanout of ratings deadwood.

Axed were the antiquated game shows — "What's My Line?" "To Tell the Truth" and "I've Got a Secret." Also "Candid Camera," "Danny Kaye,"

"Mr. Terrific," "Pistols 'n Petticoats," "Coliseum" and "It's About Time."

OTHER NEW SHOWS will be "Gentle Ben," about a boy and a bear; "Doc" (John McIntyre), Carol Burnett, "Good Morning, World," about a would-be disc jockey, and "He and She," a comedy about a cartoonist and his wife.

NBC is not talking about next season yet. It plans to reveal all in 10 days or so. Unofficially the already doomed are "Captain Nice," "I Dream of Jeannie," "Flipper," "Please Don't Eat the Daisies" and Andy Williams.

IN SHORT . . .

Carol Channing may have to continue playing "Dolly" in theaters next season. Her projected TV show, with money ready for backing, has not found an enthusiastic response at the networks.

The house of Harcourt, Brace & World, in the first major invasion of TV by a book publisher, will build six UHF stations, the first two at Augusta, Ga., and Denver, Colo.

The Broadway musical, "Cabaret," is a sellout, but star Joel Grey keeps playing the guest-shot circuit on TV.

Robert Vaughn is moonlighting during an "U.N.C.L.E." break in production to appear in the Metro feature film, "Cry Havoc."

With "What's My Line?" canceled and "Bonanza" out of the No. 1 ratings spot because of Smothers Brothers opposition, is anything sacred in TV?

TV Guide continues to have trouble keeping up with the fast-changing season. Just when its Phyllis Diller cover was on the stands, her show was reported dropped by ABC.

Will Imogene Coca again take to commercials now that "It's About Time" is kaput?

Raises Eyed By Zollinger And Dawson

Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger and Treasurer Bert A. Dawson filed letters with Council Monday night asking salary increases effective at the beginning of the new terms for city officials on Jan. 1, 1968.

Zollinger, who is paid $4,200 said he feels his salary should be boosted "to at least $7,200 a year." Dawson, now paid $1,600 annually, did not suggest an increase for his office but cited the salaries paid part-time treasurers in 12 Ohio cities in East Liverpool's population range. He said the average pay is $2,150.

Zollinger's letter also cited the salaries paid treasurers in other Ohio cities who work full-time. They ranged from a low of $7,918 in Berea to a high of $10,348 at Piqua. The average is $9,014.

Zollinger said a report compiled by the Ohio Municipal League and covering auditors in 51 Ohio cities showed that he is the lowest paid. He said all have received pay increases in the last two years, but there has been no boost in the auditor's salary since 1956.

"Considering the responsibility of the position of city auditor, I feel that when the finance committee makes recommendations for pay increases it should take this request into consideration," he said. "It is not right that several city employees with less responsibility should receive more pay than the city auditor."

Dawson's letter pointed out he has not had a pay boost, although the work load of the position has been increased by the addition of sewage accounts and the city income tax office work.

Both explained that Ohio law prohibits a raise to an elected official during a term and, therefore, they could not receive higher salaries until next Jan. 1, when new tenures begin.

Earnings Listed By National Tea

CHICAGO — Because of various factors, including the consumer boycott, the earnings of the National Tea Co. for the fourth quarter did not maintain the record-breaking level of the interim earnings of the first three quarters of 1966.

So said Norman A. Steptelton, company president, in his annual report to shareholders.

Despite the sale of 62 stores in the Detroit area, sales for the year ended Dec. 31 were $1,190,494,686, an increase of 2.5 per cent over the previous high of $1,161,948,193 recorded in 1965. "If 1965 sales were to be adjusted to reflect the disposition of these stores, our sales increase would have been 6.8 per cent," Steptelton said.

Net income after taxes was $10,861,775, equal to $1.32 per share, compared with $11,316,190 and $1.32 per share in 1965.

Earnings per share are based upon an average of 8,239,000 shares outstanding during the year, a reduction of 319,000 shares from the average outstanding during the year 1965. This reduction resulted from the company's solicitation of invitations to tender stock, which was concluded Aug. 25. Steptelton explained. The company purchased 758,984 shares at the offering price of $16 per share, increasing its treasury holdings to 909,632 at year end.

In 1966, 28 stores were opened; 15 were new locations and 13 were relocations of older stores. In addition, 54 stores were enlarged or remodeled at a total fixed asset outlay of $2,917,500, or an average of $54,000 per store.

Total expenditures for all capital improvements were $12,785,318, including new and remodeled stores, warehouse and transportation replacements and additions.

ELHS Council Collection Of Rogers Refuse To Continue Under New Plan

ROGERS — Continued collection of refuse has been assured in the village under a new policy with the collection firm, Mayor Glenn Rhodes reported at a meeting of Council Monday night.

The Columbiana Sanitation Co. had advised authorities collection would be discontinued effective last Saturday because of the small number of customers and the necessity of having to go into homes to obtain the refuse.

Rhodes said he conferred with representatives of the firm and it has been agreed the collection will continue.

However, all refuse will have to be placed at the front or rear of the homes, since employees no longer will go indoors to get containers. The $2 fee will continue.

Discussion was held on disposal of the former jail structure. A representative of a historical society from Canfield was to meet with Council last night, but apparently could not come because of weather conditions.

The society indicated it would like to transport the structure from the village and restore it.

Bills totaling $267 were paid. The next meeting will be April 3.

Youth Held In Slaying 2 Illinois Boys

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—A youth just acquitted in the sniper shooting of another Rockford teen-ager was being held today, charged with murder in the execution-style slaying of two 14-year-old cousins.

Police arrested John Wesley Williams Jr., 17, son of a former sheriff's deputy, at his job Monday. Police said they believed others were involved in the double murder and questioned at least 10 of Williams' friends. No other arrests were made.

Sheriff Herbert Brown said police confiscated a .22 caliber rifle equipped with a telescopic sight and a homemade silencer in Williams' home. He said a .22-caliber pistol which Williams' father had given him one day before the slayings had not been found.

The rifle was sent to a state crime laboratory for comparative tests with the .22-caliber bullets fired into the heads and stomachs of the two boys.

Authorities said Ronald Johnson and Wayne Mullendore were lined up in a pavilion of Levings Park facing a concrete wall and shot down Thursday night.

Police were directed to the bodies by an anonymous caller.

After questioning Williams for six hours Monday, Brown announced that charges had been filed. At the same time, the victims were being buried in Willow Cemetery.

In a tersely worded statement, the sheriff said that Williams had been charged, and added: "I appreciate that there will be no questions."

"I'm not trying to be facetious," Brown said. "I'm just being cautious."

Later he said, "We have a good case."

Williams had been charged with being the sniper who shot and wounded Nick Licari, 15, of Rockford, Nov. 5. He was acquitted of the charge Jan. 27.

Williams' wife, Linda, 16, told police she was with her husband between 7 p. m. and 8:20 p. m. Thursday. Police theorized that the murders took place between 8 p. m. and 8:16 p. m., when the anonymous call was received.

Williams appeared in court Monday afternoon where the charges were read. He is being held in Winnebago County jail.

Judge John Ghent of Circuit Court scheduled a preliminary hearing for Wednesday morning.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—Is there anything I can do about a fountain pen that persistently scratches as I use it?

A.—Try writing your name with the pen on an emery board or a piece of fine sandpaper. This usually smooths the point nicely.

Q.—How can I make "skid-proof" a pair of bookends that are continually slipping and sliding out of place?

A.—Glue a wide rubber band or a piece of auto inner tube on the bottom of each bookend, and this will usually immobilize them.

Over 60 Hurt In Boston As Trains Crash

BOSTON (AP)—An elevated train slammed against the rear of another train halted at a station in Boston's historic Charlestown section today, injuring more than 60 persons.

Massachusetts General Hospital said 55 persons were brought to its emergency department but that no one appeared to be critically injured.

A hospital spokesman said most of the injuries were cuts, strains and back injuries—"relatively minor."

The accident came during a heavy, wet snowstorm. A spokesman for the commuter line said the operator of the train that hit the waiting train applied brakes but "kept sliding."

At least 20 ambulances raced to the scene in city square, across the inner harbor from the old North Church where the lanterns signaled the start of Paul Revere's famous ride just before the Revolutionary War.

Budget Matters Occupy Meeting

Matters relative to the budget for the Hancock County Health Department were discussed at the meeting of the Court of Commissioners Monday in New Cumberland.

Dr. R. E. Flood, acting health director, submitted proposals to the commissioners for later consideration.

The court approved a contract providing financial assistance to the Hancock-Brooke County Mental Health Society. It was signed by Jack Evans, court president, and will be signed by a representative of the Mental Health Society in the near future.

The contract was prepared by Floyd Tarr, prosecuting attorney.

Evans reported to the court that he had received several inquiries on the proposed subletting of Kennedy Park and had referred them to the Pittsburgh office of the Corps of Engineers.

It was announced that the Courthouse will be closed March 24 in observance of Good Friday.

Wellsville Lists Two Accidents

Two accidents caused little damage and no injuries in Wellsville.

A one-car mishap at 6:45 last night occurred when an auto driven by Donna Jean McVay, 38, of East Liverpool R.D. 1 went out of control on a curve and struck a bridge on Wells Ave. Damage was slight to the left rear section of the car.

Later, Lawrence D. Powell, 23, of Chestnut St., New Cumberland, told police he skidded into an auto operated by Paul Nelson, 54, of 1013 Main St. The accident took place on 3rd and Lisbon Sts.

Police also reported a Sunday accident in which a car driven by Mary Herbeck, 49, of 707 11th St., Moundsville, W. Va., struck a car operated by Charles Glover, 18, of Hammond Park Ext. The mishap occurred on private property — a grocery parking lot at 6th and Main — and caused only minor damage.

April 11 Vote Slated To Fill Powell's Seat

NEW YORK (AP)—A special election has been called for April 11 in the state's 13th Congressional District to fill the seat made vacant last week by the ouster of Democrat Adam Clayton Powell.

Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller set the date Monday but made no further comment. He received official notification of the vacancy Saturday from House Speaker John McCormack.

Powell, who remains at his vacation retreat on the island of Bimini in the Bahamas, may enter the contest if he so chooses. He has said that, if necessary, he would run for the seat again.

The necessity may arise since a lawsuit to overturn the congressional exclusion action — expected to be filed soon in federal court in Washington by Powell's attorneys — may not have run its course by the election date.

Powell's lawyers also are reportedly considering filing a second suit in New York against Gov. Rockefeller seeking to enjoin him from calling a special election.

The 13th Congressional District — a predominantly Negro area in Harlem — includes the Abyssinian Baptist church of which Powell is pastor. He has been an enormously popular figure in the district, winning 12 straight congressional races by wide margins.

'Jump' Series To Take Look At Industry

Industry will occupy the spotlight when the fourth of the five-part "Jump" series is conducted Wednesday night at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

"What's the Most Important Problem Holding Back Industry in East Liverpool?" will be discussed from 8 to 9 by the following panel:

William F. Porter of the Globe Brick Co., near Newell; Audley N. Elliott, president of Barbers Local 343, and George A. Shaw, publisher of The Review representing the Community Improvement Corp.

The series will wind up March 15 with a study of job opportunities in the area during a meeting at Beth Shalom Congregation.

The program, sponsored by seven area churches, stands for "Join Up For Mutual Progress."

New Wildcat Strike Hits

MANSEFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A second wildcat strike within a month hit General Motors Corp.'s Fisher Body Division plant here today, amid reports of violence on the picket line.

Picket lines were set up beginning with the 6 a. m. shift and United Auto Workers Local 549 charged that two employees were injured — one allegedly run down by a station wagon and the other beaten with a night stick by a guard.

The company denied both charges.

"We don't know why the union struck," a company spokesman said. He termed it an "illegal walkout."

The spokesman said one picket was accidentally struck by a station wagon leaving the snow-covered plant grounds. He termed it an accident.

What prompted the walkout was not immediately known.

Union officials were not available for further comment.

Operations at the plant had continued on a shaky basis overnight, although production was not interrupted until the pickets appeared.

One union official had indicated late Monday night that a strike had been in the works then, but apparently failed to materialize.

"I think they started to have one, but they kind of backed down," said a United Auto Workers Union official, William Hall, commenting after another labor leader flatly declared, "We're on strike."

A "confirmed" report of a labor dispute at GM's Fisher Body Division plant here came late Monday night from Frank Petty, shop committee chairman of UAW Local 549, who declared a strike was under way. Petty, however, would offer no further details.

Youth Held In Slaying 2 Illinois Boys

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — A youth just acquitted in the sniper shooting of another Rockford teen-ager was being held today, charged with murder in the execution-style slaying of two 14-year-old cousins.

Police arrested John Wesley Williams Jr., 17, son of a former sheriff's deputy, at his job Monday. Police said they believed others were involved in the double murder and questioned at least 10 of Williams' friends. No other arrests were made.

Sheriff Herbert Brown said police confiscated a .22 caliber rifle equipped with a telescopic sight and a homemade silencer in Williams' home. He said a .22-caliber pistol which Williams' father had given him one day before the slayings had not been found.

The rifle was sent to a state crime laboratory for comparative tests with the .22-caliber bullets fired into the heads and stomachs of the two boys.

Authorities said Ronald Johnson and Wayne Mullendore were lined up in a pavilion of Levings Park facing a concrete wall and shot down Thursday night.

Police were directed to the bodies by an anonymous caller.

After questioning Williams for six hours Monday, Brown announced that charges had been filed. At the same time, the victims were being buried in Willow Cemetery.

In a tersely worded statement, the sheriff said that Williams had been charged, and added: "I appreciate that there will be no questions."

"I'm not trying to be facetious," Brown said. "I'm just being cautious."

Later he said, "We have a good case."

Williams had been charged with being the sniper who shot and wounded Nick Licari, 15, of Rockford, Nov. 5. He was acquitted of the charge Jan. 27.

Williams' wife, Linda, 16, told police she was with her husband between 7 p.m. and 8:20 p.m. Thursday. Police theorized that the murders took place between 8 p.m. and 8:16 p.m., when the anonymous call was received.

Williams appeared in court Monday afternoon where the charges were read. He is being held in Winnebago County jail.

Judge John Ghent of Circuit Court scheduled a preliminary hearing for Wednesday morning.

April 11 Vote Slated To Fill Powell's Seat

NEW YORK (AP) — A special election has been called for April 11 in the state's 18th Congressional District to fill the seat made vacant last week by the ouster of Democrat Adam Clayton Powell.

Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller set the date Monday but made no further comment. He received official notification of the vacancy Saturday from House Speaker John McCormack.

Convention, Conflict-Of-Interest Fading

W. Va. Higher Education Bill Seen 'All But Dead'

CHARLESTON — Higher education reorganization was all but dead and House-passed conflict-of-interest bills were not much better off today as the West Virginia legislature scrambled through the 60-day regular session's final week.

Developing Senate - House disagreements also threatened bills to beef up West Virginia's strip-mining law and enact an anti-discrimination law covering employment and public accommodations.

This was only part of the major legislation in trouble in a final week pileup that was even worse than usual. The logjam of bills kept the House in session until almost 9:30 Monday night.

Leaders in both chambers are reconciled to two or three days of extended session next week. But under this procedure the time after midnight Saturday would be restricted to the budget and supporting revenue bills.

So far leaders are not considering an extended session without restriction on agenda. An extended session of this kind, not often undertaken, requires two - thirds votes by both houses.

Early in the session both houses received four - bill packages to carry out the West Virginia Committee on Higher Education's recommendations for reorganizing administration of state-supported universities and colleges.

The bills call for creation of a board of regents to oversee the higher education system. Functioning under the regents would be three separate governing boards for West Virginia University, Marshall University and the state colleges.

In the Senate the bills have been bottled in the Education Committee since introduction. In the House the bills had three committees to pass through. They have cleared the first two, Education and Judiciary, but were sent to the Finance Committee Monday.

Plans for higher education reorganization encountered confusion caused by two rival proposals. One came from the West Virginia Education Association, the statewide teacher organization, which wanted to tie public school education into the plan. Gov. Hulett Smith submitted the other. These have not reached the floor either.

Another of Gov. Smith's legislative projects is a convention to undertake overhaul of the state constitution, which hasn't been revised by the convention method since 1872.

The House on Feb. 27 passed a bill calling for an election Nov. 7 this year on whether to hold a convention and providing procedure to follow in case of a favorable November vote. The bill has never come out of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

On Feb. 14 the House passed the conflict - of - interest bill, outgrowth of a two-year study by a between - sessions committee in cooperation with a governor's task force on this subject.

The bill contains numerous "shall" and "shall not" provisions to prevent legislators and state officials from furthering their private interests at the expense of their public duties.

This bill, too, has been bogged down in the Senate Judiciary Committee. The main dispute there is over exemptions.

For one thing, lawyers and non-lawyers on the committee reportedly are at odds over House language that would let lawyer-legislators continue serving as deputy commissioners of forfeited and delinquent lands in their counties.

The Senate-passed bill to bolster the strip-mining law, especially the law's requirements for restoring land laid waste by coal - stripping, emerged from the House Judiciary Committee last Saturday carrying a string of 75 recommended amendments which would yank some of its teeth.

For example, the committee would throw out Senate language empowering the natural resources director to declare off-limits for strip-mining areas where the terrain does not lend itself to effective land reclamation.

House Judiciary Chairman J. E. (Ned) Watson, D-Marion, said some of the recommended changes would remove provisions which his committee considered unconstitutional.

House floor action on the committee amendments was pending today. Approval of the amendments and House passage of the bill with such wholesale changes would present a hard task of ironing out the Senate-House disagreement in the short time left.

Also at amendment stage in the House today were a Senate-passed bill to give the state more power to curb air pollution and a House bill to strengthen the water pollution control law.

The watered-down Senate version of the Human Rights Commission's anti - discrimination law was at amendment stage in that chamber today. A House bill, somewhat stronger in provisions to prohibit racial discrimination in public accommodations, was up for routine first reading today.

As revised by the Senate and House Judiciary committees, both versions drop the original bill's open - housing provisions, however, the House bill does retain a policy statement against housing discrimination, although lacking any method of enforcement.

Like the original bill, the House version would give the Human Rights Commission subpoena power to use in investigating complaints of discrimination in employment and public accommodations. Senate Judiciary threw out the subpoena power.

Snow Blamed In 6 Crashes; None Injured

The heavy snow storm was blamed for six crashes that marred East Liverpool traffic Monday afternoon and night, damaging 11 vehicles. No one was injured.

Most of the collisions were timed between 6 and 9 p. m. As the storm reached its height later in the night, streets virtually were deserted.

A crash on W. 8th St. 200 feet west of Jefferson St. at 8:46 p. m. damaged a 1960 two-door sedan driven by Michael Miller, 19, of 314 Ogden St. and a 1967 compact operated by Robert F. Frye, 19, of 1836 Montana Ave. The cars were traveling in adjoining lanes on the four - lane highway when Frye's car skidded into Miller's, police said.

A 1964 compact driven by John R. Sullivan, 20, of 1534 Globe St. and a 1962 four - door operated by Cheryl Diane Talbott, 19, of 1548 Globe St. were involved in a mishap at 6:22 p. m. on Wedgewood St. at Hart Alley, officers said.

Sullivan was backing out of a driveway at his home and the Talbott girl was turning off Wedgewood St. into Hart Alley. The mishap damaged the left rear fender and bumper of the Sullivan car. The Talbott car was not damaged.

A skid was blamed for a mishap on Dresden Ave. 50 feet north of W. 7th St. at 6:32 p. m. that damaged a 1966 convertible driven by Daniel H. Hutchman, 39, of 211 Pennsylvania Ave. and a parked 1961 compact owned by Thomas Greathouse of Logan St.

Hutchman said he was driving north on Dresden about 20 miles an hour when his car skidded and struck the parked auto. There was heavy damage to the right front of Hutchman's car. The crash also damaged the left rear of Greathouse's auto.

A mishap on W. 8th St. at Lisbon St. at 3:15 p. m. damaged a 1966 sedan driven by Gerald Reed, 19, of Wellsville R. D. 1 and a 1964 four-door sedan operated by Gene R. Fultz, 26, of 1010 Church St.

Reed told police he was slowing for a traffic light when his car was hit from the rear by the Fultz auto. There was damage to the rear of the Reed car and the front of the Fultz auto.

A collision at 6:35 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. 50 feet west of Andrews Ave. damaged cars driven by Cynthia Ann Kidder, 18, of 1430 Etruria St. and Alvin J. Coll, 29, of Dewey Ave. Ext.

The young woman said she was attempting a left turn into a grocery store's lot but when she applied the brakes her car skidded into Coll's auto.

A collision at 6:12 p. m. on Lincoln Ave. 75 feet north of Smith St. damaged a 1966 two-door sedan driven by Estella Roush, 30, of 2211 St. Clair Ave. and a parked 1964 station wagon owned by Agnes Webber of 699 Belmont St.

The Roush woman said she was headed upgrade and pulled to the right to aid a driver headed downhill when her auto hit the parked vehicle.

CIA Discussion Set For Meeting

LISBON — Lynn Riddle, Lisbon attorney and a Kiwanis Club member, will discuss the Central Intelligence Agency during the club's luncheon meeting Thursday in St. George Parish Hall.

President Dan Myers will preside. Fayson Miller is program chairman.

Directors last week voted to sponsor a high school junior's attendance at Buckeye Boys State in June, donate to the Heart Fund, renew membership in the Columbiana County Forests and Parks Council, give the county 4-H movement a sum for an "outstanding 4-H'er" award, send 15 Key Club members and their adviser to the Key Club convention this spring in Cleveland and elected Myers and Lt. Gov. Jack Beck delegates to the 52nd Kiwanis International Convention in June at Houston, Tex.

The Lisbon club is planning a farm tour with East Liverpool Kiwanians for next summer.

An old - fashioned New England "boiled dinner" often consisted of corned beef, cabbage, carrots, parsnips, potatoes and beets. The beets were cooked separately so that they wouldn't color the other food; the other vegetables were all added to the kettle in which the corned beef had partly cooked. Nowadays we would still cook the beets separately, but we wouldn't add the cabbage until shortly before the beef and other vegetables were done because modern tastes call for tender - crisp rather than soggy cabbage.

Johnson was apprehended after two policemen recognized him as he walked through the terminal building at the Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

Police said Johnson, who walked away Sunday from a prison project at Wellsburg, W. Va., refused to say how he got to Pittsburgh or where he was headed. He was dressed in civilian clothes.

Johnson was sentenced to life imprisonment in 1961 under West Virginia's Habitual Criminal Act.

Bill In Ohio's Assembly Hits Eavesdropping Acts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A state senator who says he is concerned over wiretapping and other invasions of privacy has introduced in the Ohio Legislature bills outlawing eavesdropping on telephones and private conversations.

Sen. Ralph S. Regula R-29 Navarre, Stark dropped the measures into the legislative hopper Monday night after the lawmakers returned from the weekend recess.

Two bills were passed by each House and a score of new measures introduced. House and Senate committees got off to a fast start on hearings expected to highlight this week's activities.

Rep. Ralph E. Fisher R-24 Wayne called for the first hearing by his House Finance Committee tonight on a bill authorizing pay raises to an estimated 44,000 state employees.

The House State Government Committee said it could conduct a hearing at the same time on a bill to establish priorities in counting of votes for president, governor, senators, and other officials. That bill has the backing of the Ohio Newspaper Association.

Regula, noting that his eavesdropping bills "are my own idea," said "the failure of the federal government to regulate and control snooping and wiretapping will result in a George Orwellian world where there is no privacy."

His measure carries a penalty of a $50 to $1,000 fine and one to three years in jail for telephone eavesdropping and a fine of $1,000 or one to three years, or both, for listening in on private conversations.

The Senate passed unanimously and sent to the House measures allowing tuberculosis hospitals to lease lands and enter into contracts and to join associations and pay dues, and to make Ohio laws conform with the Federal Highway Beautification Act of 1965.

Sen. Harry V. Jump R-13 Huron, said the highway bill would make Ohio eligible for $3.1 million in non-matching federal funds for use in the construction of roadside development and scenic beauty.

Across the Statehouse, the lower chamber voted to transfer management authority to Salt Fork Lake from the Division of Water to the Department of Natural Resources and increase from $2 to $3 the fee for financial statements not filed on regular forms.

Among other new bills offered were two measures in the House and Senate to void actions of any public agency which are not taken in public meetings.

Other measures would: Create a nine-member Consumers Advisory Council to recommend legislation or other action on behalf of Ohio consumers.

Impose a $100-$500 fine and a jail sentence up to six months for obtaining duplicates of driver licenses which have been revoked or suspended.

Signed in both houses and sent to the governor were measures removing the village of West Millgrove from jurisdiction of Bowling Green Municipal Court and returning it to Fostoria Municipal Court and calling on Ohioans to preserve the bald eagle as the symbol of American courage.

Walter Hunston Named Aide By Commissioners

County commissioners employed him Monday at $100 a month. He will investigate complaints about illegal dumping, stream and water pollution and similar problems, file affidavits and assist the prosecuting attorney with the prosecution.

Commissioners decided yesterday how they will use the four third-floor rooms formerly occupied by the County Board of Education.

The two rooms in the northwest corner will be used by the prosecuting attorney's staff and the two rooms east of them will be used as an extension of the Law Library across the hall.

The Board of Education moved last week to the former post office building across the Square. Charles J. Gause of Hanoverton R. D. 1 will go to Columbus Wednesday to attend a meeting of newly - elected county commissioners. President John Palermo of the County Commissioners Association of Ohio will preside.

Woman Remains Hospitalized In District Mishap

A 34-year-old Chester woman remained in City Hospital today with injuries suffered when her car was struck by another auto in a skidding mishap on Route 30 near Laughlin's Corners Monday morning.

Mrs. Barbara Ciccarelli of Chester suffered bruises of the back, hip and head and shock in the 11 p. m. accident about a mile west of Laughlin's Corners.

Pennsylvania state police at Carnegie said she was headed east and lost control on the icy roadway, skidded into the west-bound lane and then came to a halt.

Theodore Meinhold, 44, of Marietta, Ill., headed west, attempted to swerve to avoid hitting her car, but skidded and struck the auto.

Mrs. Ciccarelli was in "fairly good" condition today.

Joseph Elias of Jeannette, Pa., was treated at the hospital yesterday morning for injuries of the head suffered in a mishap on Route 30 in the Laughlin's Corners area.

The League of Nations lasted from Jan. 10, 1920, until it was dissolved officially April 18, 1946.

Snow Blamed In 6 Crashes; None Injured

The heavy snow storm was blamed for six crashes that marred East Liverpool traffic Monday afternoon and night, damaging 11 vehicles. No one was injured.

Most of the collisions were timed between 6 and 9 p. m. As the storm reached its height later in the night, streets virtually were deserted.

A crash on W. 8th St. 200 feet west of Jefferson St. at 8:46 p. m. damaged a 1960 two-door sedan driven by Michael Miller, 19, of 314 Ogden St. and a 1967 compact operated by Robert F. Frye, 19, of 1836 Montana Ave. The cars were traveling in adjoining lanes on the four-lane highway when Frye's car skidded into Miller's, police said.

A 1964 compact driven by John R. Sullivan, 20, of 1534 Globe St. and a 1962 four-door operated by Cheryl Diane Talbott, 19, of 1548 Globe St. were involved in a mishap at 6:22 p. m. on Wedgewood St. at Hart Alley, officers said.

Sullivan was backing out of a driveway at his home and the Talbott girl was turning off Wedgewood St. into Hart Alley. The mishap damaged the left rear fender and bumper of the Sullivan car. The Talbott car was not damaged.

A skid was blamed for a mishap on Dresden Ave. 50 feet north of W. 7th St. at 6:32 p. m. that damaged a 1966 convertible driven by Daniel H. Hutchman, 39, of 211 Pennsylvania Ave. and a parked 1961 compact owned by Thomas Greathouse of Logan St.

Hutchman said he was driving north on Dresden about 20 miles an hour when his car skidded and struck the parked auto. There was heavy damage to the right front of Hutchman's car. The crash also damaged the left rear of Greathouse's auto.

A mishap on W. 8th St. at Lisbon St. at 3:15 p. m. damaged a 1966 sedan driven by Gerald Reed, 19, of Wellsville R. D. 1 and a 1964 four-door sedan operated by Gene R. Fultz, 26, of 1010 Church St.

Reed told police he was slowing for a traffic light when his car was hit from the rear by the Fultz auto. There was damage to the rear of the Reed car and the front of the Fultz auto.

A collision at 6:35 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. 50 feet west of Andrews Ave. damaged cars driven by Cynthia Ann Kidder, 18, of 1430 Elurita St. and Alvin J. Coil, 29, of Dewey Ave. Ext.

The young woman said she was attempting a left turn into a grocery store's lot but when she applied the brakes her car skidded into Coil's auto.

A collision at 6:12 p. m. on Lincoln Ave. 75 feet north of Smith St. damaged a 1966 two-door sedan driven by Estella Roush, 30, of 2211 St. Clair Ave. and a parked 1964 station wagon owned by Agnes Webber of 699 Almont St.

The Roush woman said she was headed upgrade and pulled to the right to aid a driver headed downhill when her auto hit the parked vehicle.

Penova CB Club Launches Plans For Open House

Plans for an "open house" were completed by the Penova Citizens Band Radio Club, Inc. when it met Sunday night at the clubhouse on Route 45.

Gov. Rhodes Confers With Premier Sato

TOKYO (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio met Tuesday with Premier Eisaku Sato and Japanese businessmen to discuss Ohio's trade with Japan.

A spokesman for the governor said the 20-minute meeting with Sato was devoted mainly to general discussions of trade and Ohio's determination to expand its exports to Japan.

The spokesman said Ohio presently exports $480 million worth of goods to Japan, but hopes to boost exports to $600 million by the end of the year.

LADIES' DAY SPECIAL

An old-fashioned New England "boiled dinner" often consisted of corned beef, cabbage, carrots, parsnips, potatoes and beets. The beets were cooked separately so that they wouldn't color the other food; the other vegetables were all added to the kettle in which the corned beef had partly cooked. Nowadays we would still cook the beets separately, but we wouldn't add the cabbage until shortly before the beef and other vegetables were done because modern tastes call for tender-crisp rather than soggy cabbage!

Ohio Pen Inmate Files An Appeal

LISBON — Albert Lee Tiano, 41, of Beckley, W. Va., has appealed from Ohio State Penitentiary to Columbiana County Common Pleas Court which sentenced him Nov. 14.

He contends his arrest and the search of his person were illegal since they took place in Pennsylvania and were made without warrants by Columbiana County sheriff's deputies.

He is serving one to two years for malicious entry of a Fairfield Township house owned by Lowell L. Burk of 778 Woodland Ave., East Liverpool.

Tiano was arrested last April 21 and was in the County Jail until his scheduled trial Nov. 11 on a charge of burglary of the vacant dwelling. He waived a jury trial and offered to plead guilty to a malicious entry charge, which offer the prosecutor's office accepted.

Three Teachers Will End Duties At End Of Term

The resignations of three teachers were accepted by the East Liverpool Board of Education during a meeting Monday night.

Resigning, effective at the end of the school term, are Harold Ginder, who will retire; Mrs. Pat Kithas, high school art instructor, and Mrs. Wilma Newman, an elementary teacher, who will move from the area.

Ginder, who has been with the East Liverpool system for 23 years, has been serving as athletic ticket manager. He has been teaching high school mechanical drawing and at one time was a shop teacher.

Supt. Paul Blair said his position "will be hard to fill."

THE BOARD also granted a leave of absence to Mrs. Ruth Okazaki for the balance of the term.

Mrs. Alyce Simmen was named a full-time substitute teacher to replace Mrs. Okazaki at Horace Mann.

Dennis Hanka was appointed a high school commercial teacher.

The board approved the rental of Westgate auditorium May 6 to the Columbiana County Youth for Christ organization for a rally. A community event, the fee will be $75 plus custodial fees.

Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk, presented the financial report, which lists a total balance of $210,164.38. She said it was not necessary to borrow money last month as an advance was received from the county auditor's office on real estate taxes and the school foundation check totaling $65,307.95 was received.

Approval was granted the Columbiana County Board of Elections for use of Neville, Horace Mann, McKinley, Pleasant Heights, Westgate and Lincoln Schools as polling places for the May 2 primary election. The Board of Elections also stated in a letter that LaCroft and Taft schools will be needed if pending state amendments are placed on the ballot.

A LETTER was received from Mrs. Rhoda E. Lowe of 305 Gilson Ave. commending Kathie Stover, Cindy Ward and Sue Tappan, high school students, for assisting her in the recent Heart Fund campaign in one of the Taft districts. "These girls were helpful, courteous and willing and did a very fine job collecting for the fund despite adverse weather conditions. I would like you to know I have always found East Liverpool High School students very good when called upon to help in volunteer work," she said.

Mrs. Mary Ruth Beebout, a teacher, presented the board with a professional negotiations document from the East Liverpool City Teachers Association. It will be reviewed by the board for inclusion in a policy book being written. Mrs. Beebout commented several meetings had been held with Blair in setting up the document.

Harry McConville, board member, suggested additional locks be put on rooms where typewriters are kept in schools, since there has been a rash of thefts of machines in other districts.

RICHARD SMITH, board member, commended Clint McConnell, coach, and the basketball team for its good season. The board also agreed to write a letter to the Ohio Athletic Association asking that a different arrangement be made on holding tournaments at Steubenville next year to provide better seating for fans of the teams playing.

Smith reported on a meeting held with the union representing custodians and bus drivers. Another will be held March 14. He said "the union has made several demands; some we cannot meet and others we can. I believe the entire board should hold a meeting to discuss the situation."

A discussion was held on the ROTC program in the high school. It was pointed out enthusiasm still is high, most equipment has been received and the program has helped improve discipline in some cases.

Guests included Jackman Vorey, president of the Education Development Council, who said the unit was formed to help the school board and not "serve as a watchdog." He extended an invitation to members to attend the next meeting March 16 at 8:30 p. m. at St. Stephen's Parish Hall. The board went on record "accepting any and all help offered."

Monthly reports were received from Edna Jones, school nurse, and Harold West, attendance officer.

The judge also ordered a bench warrant issued for Orenzuk's arrest.

The Newell man was cited by police Sunday afternoon about 4 after his auto struck two houses on E. 3rd St. east of Washington St.

Police said his auto backed into homes at 214 and 216 E. 3rd St., both owned by Mrs. Irene McHenry of 401 W. 6th St.

Orenzuk told police he could not explain what caused the crash, but added he was "tired and sleepy and must have fallen asleep."

Plans Are Begun For Drive To Aid In Mental Health

Plans are under way for the annual fund drive of the Hancock-Brooke County Mental Health Association in the Newell area, which will be sponsored by the Newell Junior Woman's Club.

A door-to-door canvass, with club members assisting, is scheduled May 17-20. Mrs. Jerry Guire is chairman and Mrs. Fred Burch co-chairman.

A briefing session was held Sunday at Weirton, with Dr. Eli J. Weller, county chairman. Plans were made for sending advance solicitation notices to organizations, community leaders, industries and business and professional people in the Newell area.

Rudyard Kipling was the first Englishman to receive a Nobel Prize for literature.

Court Income Drops $1,900

Municipal Court revenue hit $3,897 in February, a decline of $1,900 from the $5,797 listed for January, it was shown today in the monthly report of Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon.

The city treasury received $3,326 out of last month's revenue, a decline of $1,611 from the $4,937 paid the city out of January receipts.

The city's share of the revenue was comprised of $305 in costs from civil cases, $2,683 in fines, costs and forfeitures from criminal cases and $336 in penalties resulting from State Highway Patrol citations.

In addition to the amount paid the city, the court turned over $336 to the state treasurer, $144 to the county treasurer and $90 to the Law Library Association.

The total amount handled by the court last month was $8,926, a decline of $2,175 from the $11,101 reported in January. The funds handled in February included $3,760 in the civil branch and $5,166 in the criminal branch.

A breakdown of cases showed 32 civil cases filed, 100 disposed of and 112 left pending; 33 city criminal cases filed, 28 disposed of and 70 left pending, and 62 state criminal cases filed, 68 disposed of and 188 left pending.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My brother says I'm out of my mind. If you agree with him I will go to a psychiatrist. The problem is that I hate guns and see no reason for young children to be taught that guns are toys and killing is fun.

My husband's brother has two pre-teen-age sons. Their home is filled with toy guns as well as real ones. I keep having nightmares that the boys will mistake a real gun for a toy one of these days. I've told my brother and his wife of my fears and they say I am crazy.

It seems to me that in the last few years the papers have reported a shocking number of killings by emotionally disturbed people who had easy access to guns and knew how to use them. My brother and his wife insist that every boy should be raised with a gun so he will accept it as a part of his life. Do you have any views on this? — CRAZY AUNT.

Dear Aunt: You bet I do and I've expressed them in this space in the past but I am happy to do so again.

Why on earth guns should be a part of anyone's life is beyond me. Guns are for killing.

What this country needs is some decent gun laws.

I welcome this opportunity to ask my readers to write their congressmen and senators and urge them to pass federal legislation placing strict curbs on the sale and shipping of guns from one state to the other.

What can be done about the nuts who already have guns is another problem. But we can and we must do something about the flagrant sale of guns to anyone who has the price to buy one in a store or through a mail-order catalogue.

Sherlock Holmes

Dear Ann Landers: My husband always has been a finicky eater, but lately he has become worse and it's getting me down.

Charles carries a small magnifying glass in his pocket and every time he sits down to a meal he pulls out the magnifying glass and examines the silverware, the bread (looking for mold, he says) and even the butter.

With salads he's impossible. He turns over every lettuce leaf and every sprig of parsley. So far as I know he never has found anything but he always pushes the salad away "just in case."

I can tolerate this kind of behavior at home but he started to do it out in company and it can make a hostess pretty nervous.

Last night we were invited to a lovely dinner party at the home of a socially prominent couple. I asked Charles to please leave the magnifying glass at home and he said, "No, I wouldn't eat a thing without examining it."

He whipped out the magnifying glass as usual and everyone thought it was a gag and roared with laughter. I was humiliated to death. Please tell me what to do. — MORTIFIED WIFE.

Dear Wife: Obviously Charles has a hang-up and there is nothing you can do about it, so resign yourself. Compulsive food inspectors are a neurotic breed, but so long as Charles' neurosis doesn't spill over into other areas, be thankful the bat in his belfry is of the harmless variety.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Board Begins Drive To Sign City's Voters

The County Election Board has started a drive to register unqualified East Liverpool voters for the May 2 municipal primaries.

Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, pointed out that just a little more than two weeks remain before the deadline Wednesday, March 22, at 9 p. m.

East Liverpool started 1967 with 7,028 qualified voters after the names of 1,523 were removed from the lists in the annual year-end check for failure to vote at least once in the preceding two years. By contrast, East Liverpool had 8,348 registered voters on Jan. 1, 1966.

The Election Board's office at 129 W. 6th St. is open Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. and Saturday from 9 a. m. until noon. It will maintain a continuous 12-hour schedule of office hours the last three days before the deadline. The board's office will be open from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m. on March 20, 21 and 22.

In addition, branch registration offices will be maintained in the three major residential areas of the city March 21 and 22 to allow voters to qualify without the necessity for a trip to the office downtown.

The branch registration offices will operate on Pleasant Heights, North Side and East End.

East Liverpool's voters registration hit its all-time high of 12,642 in advance of the November 1960 Presidential election. Since that time, there has been a gradual decline as families migrated to the new suburban areas immediately outside the city limits, where voter registration is not required.

Voters should register if they have not voted at a primary, general or special election in the preceding two years; changed their name by marriage or court action; or changed the place of residence since voting last.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: As a 13-year-old, I love to wear blue jeans, but they are murder to iron.

After taking them out of the ironing basket one day, I realized they had not been put on the pants leg stretcher to dry. I tried to iron them but had no luck. Then I hit upon a new idea. I put the leg stretcher in the dry pants and ironed away.

The pants came out with a perfect seam.

So if any of you other teenagers forget to put the frames in when the pants are wet, try sticking them in after they are dry and then commence the ironing.

Be surprised how easy it is.

LAURIE CAMPBELL

Well, pip pip and a great Big Horray!

Not only the other teenagers, but all us mothers who do ironing send you umpteen kisses.

Love, HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I carefully remove the spring from a wooden clothespin and have two nice wooden wedges to keep windows from rattling.

R.N.S.

DEAR HELOISE: I keep a nutty knife in my kitchen drawer.

It sure is handy for lifting the lids of baking powder or cocoa cans. It's sometimes used for scooting up a wad of gum that missed the wastepaper basket and landed on the floor.

MARY McCLELLAND

Ever try using one for removing fudge and brownies? Lifts a perfect square with no broken edges, hon.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Please tell mothers not to throw away those plastic covered baby-bumper pads from baby's crib because they rip at the ties.

I finally decided to remove the sponge inside and cut it up for individual sponges.

The sponge can also be covered with cloth and shoestrings sewn on as ties for the crib bars.

Very practical.

JUDY ONJACK

DEAR HELOISE: Want to peel hard-boiled eggs easily and quickly?

Roll them gently under your palms, somewhat like rolling a lemon.

The shell cracks perfectly all over and is easy to peel.

KAY MCCOOL.

DEAR HELOISE: I had three pairs of shoes with stack heels, but they were very dull looking.

After cleaning and polishing them thoroughly, I put clear nail polish over the heels, and they almost looked like new. Sure saved some nice pairs of shoes.

READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Quite by accident (and necessity) I discovered that wrapping a cut green pepper in a dinner-size paper napkin extended the life of cut peppers.

Heretofore, I would have to throw out half of each pepper almost every time.

By wrapping it in plastic wrap, the moisture was kept in and it spoiled the pepper, but the paper napkin seems to absorb the moisture.

MRS. T. M. DUFFY.

Yes, I cut a pepper in half and tried both methods. The paper napkin worked far better.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I am a busy wife, mother and also help my husband with the farm work.

When painting our woodwork, I ran out of time and did not finish. I thought of finishing painting after supper, so I wrapped my brush in foil, instead of spending the time cleaning it.

When I resumed my painting, the brush was just as moist and pliable as ever.

ALZADA

DEAR HELOISE: For years we have been using our old pillowcases to slip over the dog's mattress in his bed. This way his mattress stays clean for ages by just changing the case.

Instant Replay Camera Catches Tribe Mistakes

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Indians No. 1 catcher in spring training can't hit but not much gets by him — ah, it.

No. 1 is a television camera, whose job it is to catch mistakes made by players.

In two intrasquad games last weekend, No. 1 caught more mistakes than Joe Azcue, a catcher who can hit, caught balls.

Azcue was having trouble holding on to certain pitches, and his mistakes showed up on the Indians' new instant replay television equipment.

So, Azcue is being given some personalized instruction by former catching stars Del Rice, a Cleveland coach, and Ray Mueller, an Indian scout.

There were no reports concerning television coming out of the St. Louis camp, but the Cardinals did get some apparent good news from a set of scales.

Julian Javier weighed in Monday at 187, prompting Manager Red Schoendienst to say the extra poundage would help Javier's effort to come back as the Cardinals' regular second baseman.

Javier, who has had his best seasons with the Cardinals when he weighed 185, reported to camp the past two seasons un-

N. Orleans Gets Cuozzo In Trade

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — It was costly, but Tom Fears has gotten something for the New Orleans Saints that few fledgling pro football teams have — a topnotch quarterback.

Quarterback Gary Cuozzo, 25, onetime Phi Beta Kappa scholar at Virginia and Johnny Unitas' understudy for the past four years, was dealt to the Saints Monday by the Baltimore Colts in a National Football League swap.

Baltimore took its pound of flesh — with a few extra trimmings.

The Colts got the rights for New Orleans' first round selection in the upcoming collegiate draft.

That means the Colts will get the first shot at the cream of the 1966 college seniors — perhaps Heisman Trophy winner Steve Spurrier if the draft is strictly legitimate and the stories that the Florida flinger is reserved for the New York Giants aren't so.

Here's how the Baltimore-New Orleans trade went:

The Colts get two 1967 draft choices, including the Saints' No. 1 choice, plus center Bill Curry, obtained last month from Green Bay in the veterans' pool.

Fears, New Orleans' head coach, would not say what would round the other draft choice was.

Cuozzo comes to the Saints along with Butch Allison, 22, a guard who played on the taxi squad last season after being the Colts' No. 2 draftee in 1966.

It was no secret to Cuozzo. He had asked to be traded.

"I'm very glad to be given the opportunity to play," said the 6-foot-1, 195-pounder in Memphis, where he attends the University of Tennessee dental school in the off-season.

"I had an agreement with the Colts to trade me," he said. "I don't think I could have gotten to play regularly — barring unforeseen injuries — so I'm pleased about the trade."

Clay Claims He Will Keep Mouth Shut In Next Bout

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Claiming "On this fight, I plan to keep my mouth shut," heavyweight champion Cassius Clay came to town and discussed his upcoming fight with Zora Folley, the Black Muslims, Viet Nam, Oscar Bonavena, Joe Frazier, Wilt Chamberlain and hypocrisy among his critics.

In New York Monday to wrap up arrangements for his March 22 championship fight in Madison Square Garden with Folley, Clay insisted, "I don't plan to enter controversy this time as I have in some other fights."

Clay and Folley underwent brief physical examinations and signed license applications and the 34-year-old challenger expressed satisfaction at getting a shot at the champion after being a top contender for 10 years without ever having a title fight.

Both fighters were pronounced in excellent shape and Clay dispensed some opinions:

"Folley is a nice, clean, civilized man. He can hit me. Terrell couldn't," Clay said, refer-

Black Hawks Continue To Lead Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Chicago's point-making triumvirate of Stan Mikita, Bobby Hull and Ken Wharram ranked 1-2-3 as the Black Hawks continued their domination of National Hockey League individual scoring race.

Statistics released today showed that Mikita increased his runaway lead last week with two goals and four assists for a total of 30 and 54 and 84 points. Hull, meanwhile closed in on another 50-goal season with six more for 46. Hull added his 20th assists for 66 points.

Wharram gave the Black Hawks the first three spots with 56 points as he overtook Norm Ullman of Detroit with two as-

Big 10 Race Continues

Tennessee Gains NCAA Spot After 3 Overtimes; Kansas Wins Crown

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Tennessee Volunteers, trying to extend their basketball season, almost overdid it.

Going to extremes to win their first Southeastern Conference title since 1943, the Vols muddled through three overtimes and barely missed a fourth before squeezing by Mississippi State 78-76 at Starkville Monday night.

Now, instead of being further delayed by a three-way playoff for the SEC crown, the Vols can move directly into the NCAA postseason tournament.

Kansas took a much shorter, although precarious, route into the tournament by holding off Colorado 65-59 at Lawrence in regulation time.

But while Tennessee and Kansas ended their conference races, the Big Ten competition stretched on and on.

Indiana and Michigan State each won and remained tied for first place, which will be decided by their final games Saturday, if then.

Each has 9-4 league marks after the Hoosiers staggered past last-place Michigan 96-90 at Bloomington, and the Spartans shook off host Minnesota 67-59.

Eighth-ranked Tennessee, which meets the winner of Saturday's Western Kentucky-Dayton game in the Midwest Regional March 17, needed two free throws by Bill Justis with six seconds left in the third extra period to get by Mississippi State.

State's Dave Williams almost kept it going, but his shot missed at the final buzzer.

The final game victory gave the Vols a 15-3 conference mark and avoided a three-way tie with Florida and Vanderbilt, each at 14-4 after Vandv dropped Louisiana State 75-66 at Nashville.

Third-ranked Kansas never trailed after breaking a 15-15 tie, but Colorado nipped at the heels of the Jayhawks the rest of the way as Pat Frink scored 27 points.

The victory gave Kansas its 20th conference title with a 12-1 mark and a 21-3 over-all record that it will take against Saturday's Houston-New Mexico State victor in the Midwest Regional March 17.

Colorado, 9-4, fell out of a second-place tie with Nebraska and into a third-place deadlock with Kansas State in its bid for the NIT berth that goes to the conference runner-up.

Nebraska, 10-3, which plays at Colorado Saturday, crushed Oklahoma State 88-71 while Kansas State played Kansas Saturday.

Indiana blew an 11-point lead and then came from behind on Butch Joyner's 27 points. The Hoosiers took the lead for good at 89-88 and Vern Payne and Bill Russell split four free throws and Joyner hit a three-point play to protect it.

Michigan State broke a 50-50 tie on Matt Aitch's three-point play and a basket by Lee Lafayette. Tom Kondla paced the Gophers with 27 points.

Indiana hosts Purdue and State entertains Northwestern Saturday. Should both fall, the winner of tonight's Iowa-Wisconsin match could make it a three-way tie.

In other games Monday night, Don Sidle scored 42 points as Oklahoma stomped Missouri 90-75, spoiling Tiger Coach Bob Vanatta's final game; Pat Riley fired in 28 points and powered Kentucky past Alabama 110-78; Ohio State trounced visiting Illinois 100-79 despite 27 points by Dave Scholz; Washington beat Oregon 78-67 and Oregon State outlasted Washington State 51-49 in overtime.

Walker Is Ready To Lead Friars Into NIT Tourney

NEW YORK (AP) — Madison Square Garden always brings out the best in Jim Walker, Providence's All-America backcourt flash — and Walker at his best is a revelation.

The slick senior, No. 2 scorer in the country with a 29-point average, has captured two straight MVP trophies in leading the Friars to Holiday Festival basketball titles at the Garden in 1965 and last December.

Saturday afternoon, Walker and the Friars open their bid for the National Invitation Tournament crown, which Providence won in 1961 and 1963. The first hurdle is defense-oriented Memphis State in the opener of a first-round doubleheader that also matches New Mexico and Syracuse.

Marshall meets Villanova and St. Peter's, N.J., takes on Southern Illinois in Thursday night's tourney-opening twin bill. Marquette goes against Memphis State and Rutgers tangles with Utah State Saturday night, completing the first-round action.

Two more entrants, the still-undetermined runners-up in the Big Eight and the Atlantic Coast Conference, begin play in Monday night quarter-final games.

Walker is perhaps the best one-on-one performer in the college game. But the 6-foot-3 scorer-overmaker found himself over-matched on his home court by Villanova's tenacious zone defenses three weeks ago.

"Walker took 20 shots over that zone and made only two of them," Providence pilot Joe Mullaney recalled Monday. "We lost the game 55-52 and afterward someone told me that a couple of our loyal fans were yelling, 'Get that stiff out of there,' in the second half."

"Jim must have heard them. He came back and scored 47 points, then 46, in the next two games. And each of those two teams played zones against us."

Walker doubtless will get special attention from Memphis State, whose first-year coach,

Hank Iba Jr., learned his defensive lessons well from his father at Oklahoma State. The Tigers have allowed only 55.7 points per game — the second best defensive record among the nation's major teams.

Among other standouts likely to battle Walker for individual honors in the 30th NIT are Rutgers sharpshooter Bob Lloyd, 6-foot-9 Mel Daniels of New Mexico, Syracuse's George Hicker, Tulsa's Eldridge Webb, Southern Illinois' Walt Frazer, Utah State's Shaler Halimon and Marshall's George Stone.

Ron Williams Named All-District Team

NEW YORK (AP) — West Virginia's Ron Williams, a 6-foot-3 guard, was the only Southern Conference player named to the District 3B All-Star team picked by the U.S. Basketball Writers Association.

Named with Williams on the district team, announced Monday by Look Magazine, were Larry Miller and Bob Lewis of North Carolina, Bob Verga of Duke and Paul Long of Wake Forest.

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Athletic Director Doyt Perry of Bowling Green State University has indicated a new head basketball coach probably will be named within a week or two.

4-Chicago Cubs

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

PITCHING—The wind in Chicago isn't quite as bad these days. Leo Durocher has turned realist. He doesn't have much of a pitching staff. Ken Holtzman, the rookie lefthander (11-16), showed promise last year. Ray Culp (7-4) wanted the Phillies to trade him. Trade him they did. Brings 5.03 ERA to Chicago. Ferguson Jenkins (6-8) had fair year, splitting time as starter and reliever. Curt Simmons (5-8) may have a few wins in aging left arm. The bullpen offers semblance of stability. Bob Hendley, Cal Koonce, Bill Hands pitched with consistency year ago. Rookie hopefuls Rich Nye, Dave Dowling, Charlie Hartenstein getting an opportunity they'll never see again. RATING—C.

INFIELD—Potent offensively, though Ernie Banks (272), at first base, requires more rest these days. Lee Thomas a capable replacement. Secondbaseman Glenn Beckert (287) and shortstop Dan Kessinger (243) improved in all departments last year. Ron Santo at third (312, 30 HR, 94 RBI) helps carry club. He has few equals in either league. RATING—B.

OUTFIELD—Adolfo Phillips (.260), Byron Browne (.243) didn't please Leo with their defense last year. He blames it on inexperience. At least he hopes that was the reason. It's pleasure for Leo to look out to left field. Steady Billy Williams (276, 29 HR, 91 RBI) is there. RATING—B.

CATCHING—Randy Hundley considered league's best young catcher. Hit only .236 but had 19 HR, 63 RBI as a rookie. He also caught 149 games. Don Bryant, probable backup man, better prepare for summer of bullpen work. RATING—B.

BENCH — Experienced pinchhitters in Lee Thomas, George Altman. Both, however, are letty. Utilityman Ron Campbell for infield. Jim Stewart at home in infield or outfield but not much of a hitter. Good righthand pinchhitter needed. RATING—C.

SUMMARY — A potentially powerful club. If it could only get some pitching, Chicago could give the National League trouble. Then the wind in Chicago would pick up again. PREDICTION—Soft, mild breezes this summer, 9th.

UCLA Wins College Poll With Louisville Second

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The nation's college Coach-of-the-Year says his UCLA Bruins "could now beat any team in a series of games."

Coach John Wooden made that response after learning that his basketball squad was named No. 1 in The Associated Press' final major college basketball poll of the 1966-67 season.

Wooden added:

"It's possible that other teams are also deserving, but certainly we rank with the very best. Our improvement has been consistent all year long."

"I am well aware that there are many fine teams which may be able to beat us on a given night, though."

The Bruins, unranked last season, were named the top team by all 30 sports writers and broadcasters participating in the poll. The squad boasts a 25-0 record.

Finishing second was Louisville, followed in order by Kansas, North Carolina, Princeton, Western Kentucky, Houston, Tennessee, Boston College and Texas Western.

The Bruins placed first in the final poll only once before. That was in 1964, when it compiled a regular season record of 26-0.

If UCLA plows unbeaten through its regular campaign this year, it will become the sixth college squad in history to do so.

Along with the 1963-64 Bruins, the other unbeaten squads were Columbia in 1950-51, San Francisco in 1955-56, North Carolina in 1956-57 and Ohio State in 1960-61.

Defeated in postseason tournaments were Columbia and Ohio State.

The Bruins have one regular season game left, against the University of Southern California.

Barry Has Big Lead In Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — With the National Basketball Association season drawing to a close, it's beginning to look as if Rick Barry won't be the only new name that ends up leading a major statistical category.

Barry of San Francisco has the scoring title wrapped up with a 36.3 point per game average and will displace Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia, who has led the league in scoring the last seven years.

Adrian Smith of Cincinnati will lead ahead in the free-throw percentage department with an .899 average and Guy Rodgers of Chicago is on his way to displacing Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati as the assist leader.

Rodgers has 823 assists, for an 11.3 per-game average, to 761 and a 10.6 average for Robertson.

Look All-American Lists Dayton U. Star

NEW YORK (AP) — Don May of the University of Dayton has been named All-America in basketball by Look Magazine.

The 6-foot-4 junior star and another of the 10-man Look team, Clem Haskins of Western Kentucky, clash head-to-head in the NCAA Mid-East Regional at Lexington, Ky., Saturday.

Barry Has Big Lead In Scoring

The year's final poll moved Kansas ahead one spot to third, switching places with North Carolina.

Boston College and Texas Western swapped places with the Eagles grabbing ninth and the Miners dropping to 10th place.

The voting saw Louisville gain 253 points — awarded on the usual basis. Ten points were cast for a first-place choice, nine for second and eight for third etc.

Louisville has a 23-3 record for the season.

Last year's final poll leader, Kentucky, won only 12 games this season and lost 13. Duke was runner-up and the remaining Top Ten, in order, were Texas Western, Kansas, St. Joseph's, Pa., Chicago, Loyola, Cincinnati, Vanderbilt, Michigan and Western Kentucky.

The final Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points on a 19-9 etc. basis:

1. UCLA (30) 300
2. Louisville 253
3. Kansas 197
4. North Carolina 178
5. Princeton 163
6. Western Kentucky 149

Instant Replay Camera Catches Tribe Mistakes

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Indians No. 1 catcher in spring training can't hit but not much gets by him — ah, it.

No. 1 is a television camera, whose job it is to catch mistakes made by players.

In two intrasquad games last weekend, No. 1 caught more mistakes than Joe Azcue, a catcher who can hit, caught balls.

Azcue was having trouble holding on to certain pitches, and his mistakes showed up on the Indians' new instant replay television equipment.

So, Azcue is being given some personalized instruction by former catching stars Del Rice, a Cleveland coach, and Ray Mueller, an Indian scout.

There were no reports concerning television coming out of the St. Louis camp, but the Cardinals did get some apparent good news from a set of scales.

Julian Javier weighed in Monday at 187, prompting Manager Red Schoendienst to say the extra poundage would help Javier's effort to come back as the Cardinals' regular second baseman.

Javier, who has had his best seasons with the Cardinals when he weighed 185, reported to camp the past two seasons un-

N. Orleans Gets Cuozzo In Trade

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — It was costly, but Tom Fears has gotten something for the New Orleans Saints that few fledgling pro football teams have — a topnotch quarterback.

Quarterback Gary Cuozzo, 25, onetime Phi Beta Kappa scholar at Virginia and Johnny Unitas' understudy for the past four years, was dealt to the Saints Monday by the Baltimore Colts in a National Football League swap.

Baltimore took its pound of flesh — with a few extra trimmings.

The Colts got the rights for New Orleans' first round selection in the upcoming collegiate draft.

That means the Colts will get the first shot at the cream of the 1966 college seniors — perhaps Heisman Trophy winner Steve Spurrier if the draft is strictly legitimate and the stories that the Florida flinger is reserved for the New York Giants aren't so.

Here's how the Baltimore-New Orleans trade went:

The Colts get two 1967 draft choices, including the Saints' No. 1 choice, plus center Bill Curry, obtained last month from Green Bay in the veterans' pool.

Fears, New Orleans' head coach, would not say what round the other draft choice was.

Cuozzo comes to the Saints along with Butch Allison, 22, a guard who played on the taxi squad last season after being the Colts' No. 2 draftee in 1966.

It was no secret to Cuozzo. He had asked to be traded.

"I'm very glad to be given the opportunity to play," said the 6-foot-1, 195-pounder in Memphis, where he attends the University of Tennessee dental school in the off-season.

"I had an agreement with the Colts to trade me," he said. "I don't think I could have gotten to play regularly — barring unforeseen injuries — so I'm pleased about the trade."

Clay Claims He Will Keep Mouth Shut In Next Bout

By RON RAPOPORT

NEW YORK (AP) — Claiming "On this fight, I plan to keep my mouth shut," heavyweight champion Cassius Clay came to town and discussed his upcoming fight with Zora Folley, the Black Muslims, Viet Nam, Oscar Bonavena, Joe Frazier, Wilt Chamberlain and hypocrisy among his critics.

In New York Monday to wrap up arrangements for his March 22 championship fight in Madison Square Garden with Folley, Clay insisted, "I don't plan to enter controversy this time as I have in some other fights."

Clay and Folley underwent brief physical examinations and signed license applications and the 34-year-old challenger expressed satisfaction at getting a shot at the champion after being a top contender for 10 years without ever having a title fight.

Both fighters were pronounced in excellent shape and Clay dispensed some opinions.

"Folley is a nice, clean, civilized man. He can hit me. Terrell couldn't," Clay said, refer-

Wharram gave the Black Hawks the first three spots with 56 points as he overtook Norm Ullman of Detroit with two as-

Big 10 Race Continues

Tennessee Gains NCAA Spot After 3 Overtimes; Kansas Wins Crown

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Tennessee Volunteers, trying to extend their basketball season, almost overdid it.

Going to extremes to win their first Southeastern Conference title since 1943, the Vols muddled through three overtimes and barely missed a fourth before squeezing by Mississippi State 76-76 at Starkville Monday night.

Now, instead of being further delayed by a three-way playoff for the SEC crown, the Vols can move directly into the NCAA postseason tournament.

Kansas took a much shorter, although precarious, route into the tournament by holding off Colorado 66-59 at Lawrence in regulation time.

But while Tennessee and Kansas ended their conference races, the Big Ten competition stretched on and on.

Indiana and Michigan State each won and remained tied for first place, which will be decided by their final games Saturday, if then.

Each has 9-4 league marks after the Hoosiers staggered past last-place Michigan 96-90 at Bloomington, and the Spartans shook off host Minnesota 67-59.

Eighth-ranked Tennessee, which meets the winner of Saturday's Western Kentucky-Dayton game in the Midwest Regional March 17, needed two free throws by Bill Justus with six seconds left in the third extra period to get by Mississippi State.

State's Dave Williams almost kept it going, but his shot missed at the final buzzer.

The final game victory gave the Vols a 15-3 conference mark and avoided a three-way tie with Florida and Vanderbilt, each at 14-4 after Vandv dropped Louisiana State 75-66 at Nashville.

Third-ranked Kansas never trailed after breaking a 15-15 tie, but Colorado nipped at the heels of the Jayhawks the rest of the way as Pat Frink scored 27 points.

The victory gave Kansas its 20th conference title with a 12-1 mark and a 21-3 over-all record that it will take against Saturday's Houston-New Mexico State victor in the Midwest Regional March 17.

Colorado, 9-4, fell out of a second-place tie with Nebraska and into a third-place deadlock with Kansas State in its bid for the NIT berth that goes to the conference runner-up.

Nebraska, 10-3, which plays at Colorado Saturday, crushed Oklahoma State 88-71 while Kansas State clipped Iowa State 81-68. Kansas State plays Kansas Saturday.

Indiana blew an 11-point lead and then came from behind on Butch Joyner's 27 points. The Hoosiers took the lead for good at 89-88 and Vern Payne and Bill Russell split four free throws and Joyner hit a three-point play to protect it.

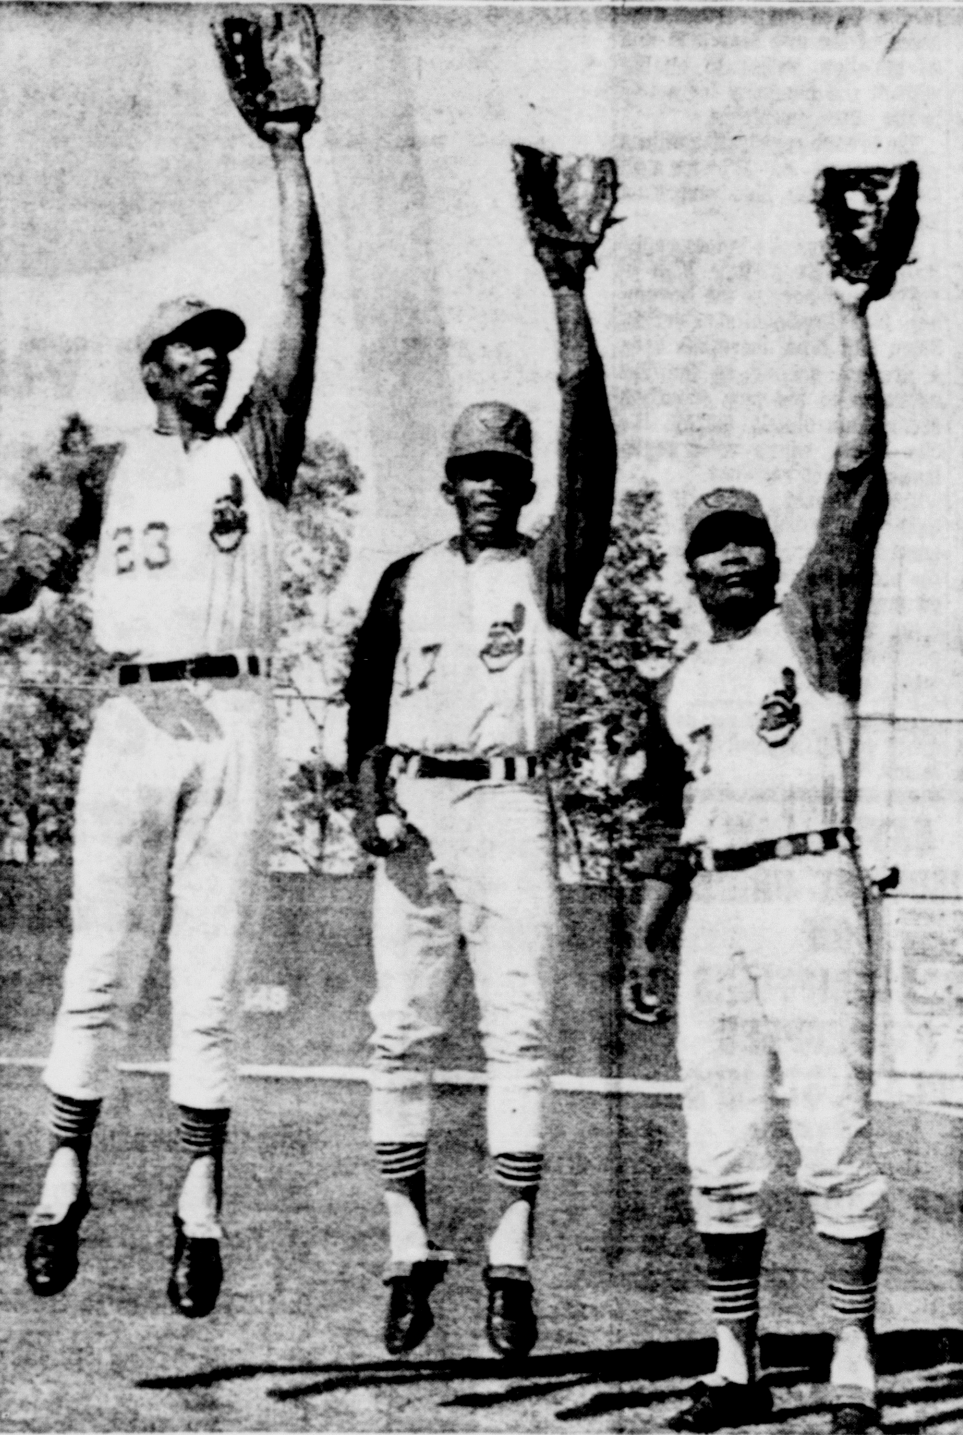

Michigan State broke a 50-50 tie on Matt Aitch's three-point play and a basket by Lee Lafayette. Tom Kondla paced the Gophers with 27 points.

Indiana hosts Purdue and State entertains Northwestern Saturday. Should both fall, the winner of tonight's Iowa-Wisconsin match could make it a three-way tie.

In other games Monday night, Don Sidle scored 42 points as Oklahoma stumped Missouri 90-75, spoiling Tiger Coach Bob Vanatta's final game; Pat Riley fired in 28 points and powered Kentucky past Alabama 110-78; Ohio State trounced visiting Illinois 100-79 despite 27 points by Dave Scholz; Washington beat Oregon 78-67 and Oregon State outlasted Washington State 51-49 in overtime.

Walker Is Ready To Lead Friars Into NIT Tourney

NEW YORK (AP) — Madison Square Garden always brings out the best in Jim Walker, Providence's All-America basketball flash — and Walker at his best is a revelation.

UCLA Wins College Poll With Louisville Second

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The nation's college Coach-of-the-Year says his UCLA Bruins "could now beat any team in a series of games."

Coach John Wooden made that response after learning that his basketball squad was named No. 1 in The Associated Press' final major college basketball poll of the 1966-67 season.

Wooden added:

"It's possible that other teams are also deserving, but certainly we rank with the very best. Our improvement has been consistent all year long."

The Bruins placed first in the final poll only once before. That was in 1964, when it compiled a regular season record of 26-0.

If UCLA plows unbeaten through its regular campaign this year, it will become the sixth college squad in history to do so.

Along with the 1963-64 Bruins, the other unbeaten squads were Columbia in 1950-51, San Francisco in 1955-56, North Carolina in 1956-57 and Ohio State in 1960-61.

Defeated in postseason tournaments were Columbia and Ohio State.

The Bruins have one regular season game left, against the University of Southern California.

Junior Editors Quiz on— STATIC ELECTRICITY

QUESTION: What is static electricity?

ANSWER: All material things are electrical in part. In the circle is an atom, one of the incredibly small particles of which all matter is composed. The two black balls revolving around the central nucleus are electrons, the smallest particles of electricity. Laura is demonstrating static electricity, one way in which electricity works. She has rubbed a comb across a woolen cloth. Some of the electrons in the cloth have rubbed off—and the comb has gained them. Electricity has both positive and negative charges. Since electrons are negatively charged, the comb is now negatively charged too. The bits of paper on the table are uncharged. In electricity, a charged thing will attract an uncharged one; so the bits of paper cling to the comb when it is lifted. We show another way electricity works. When a wire connects two poles in a battery, a movement of certain electrons, which can jump from one atom to another, is caused. This movement, from the negative pole of the battery to the positive one, is an electric current.
